ALLIES MAKING AN EFFORT TO ENLIST CHINA IN ENTENTE

Announcement Reveals a Serious Complication of Affairs in the Far East.

CHINA MAY FAVOR IDEA

Purpose Probably is to Restore Better Relations Between China and Japan.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Efforts are being made by Great Britain, France and Russia to include China in the membership of the Entente now aligned against the Germanic powers. Disclosure of this fact directed the attention of official Washington today to a complicated situation in the Far East, the seriousness of which had not hitherto been realized.

It became known that in order to insure friendly relations between Japan and China, conversations and exchanges had been proceeding in Peking and the European capitals looking to the formal entrance of China on an equal footing with Japan into the alliance that now includes Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Japan and Serbia.

Military Aid Not Expected.

Military participation by China in the war would not be expected but the political necessity of adding China to the Allies is looked upon by them as of vast importance. It was learned today that recently several Japanese warships were placed at strategic points along the Chinese coast, and that the possibility of internal revolution in China, through the proposed change from republic to parliamentary monarchy, had caused some Japanese officials to believe munitions of war should be husbanded for emergencies. When the recent Japanese-Chinese negotiations were in progress, Japan similarly felt compelled to hold her ammunition supply for developments, a circumstance that is known to have embarrassed Russia considerably.

So far as is known here, most of the conversations have been conducted at Peking, and it is not clear how far the proposal has been discussed with the Japanese government at Tokio. The belief is general, however, that Great Britain on account of the obligations of her alliance with Japan, probably has consulted the Tokio government freely.

China May Favor Idea.

China's attitude has not yet developed, but in some quarters here the view is held that the Peking government is favorably inclined to the Entente proposal since the most would guarantee the integrity of China during the present disturbed conditions of world politics and safeguard her interests at the peace conference. In fact, some rumors have reached officials recently that the plan actually originated with the Chinese who saw in it a means of checkmating possible Japanese aggression.

Just what advantages would lie to Japan in acquiescing in the proposal are not clear, but it is suggested in well informed quarters that by placing on a solid foundation the relations between China and Japan, Japanese commercial interests in China might be immune from the possible disturbances which recurrent political friction might bring about.

The feeling in China against Japan has been growing on account of the recent negotiations, and the possibility that a more friendly spirit might be developed between the two Oriental countries also is said to be a factor in behalf of Japanese approval of the plan.

Secretary Lansing declined to comment on the situation, declaring that whatever had been received by the American government on the subject was confidential and could not be disclosed.

MOVEMENT MADE TO CREATE A WORLD'S SUPREME COURT

For Judicial Settlement of all International Disputes.

New York, Nov. 19.—The first formal steps in a campaign for the creation of a world supreme court for the judicial settlement of all international disputes were taken at a luncheon given at the Bankers' Club here today, attended by men prominent in public life from all sections of the country. The luncheon resulted in the formation of the World's Court League of American by the election of a board of governors who will later elect officers and perfect the organization.

Dr. John Wesley Hill, who presided explained that it was not the object of the league to take any hand in [illegible] about peace in the present war [illegible] to interfer in any way with [illegible]nt plans in the United States. The [illegible]ague proposed to organize a court consisting of representatives [illegible]ch country in the world which will prevent any future outbreak such as the present war.

[illegible]g the governors elected are the following: John Wesley Hill, John [illegible]ammond, Oscar S. Straus, Alton [illegible]er, John Wanamaker, United [illegible]Senator L. Y. Sherman, of Illinois; Charles W. Fairbanks, Governor-elect A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, and Governor W. S. Hammond, of Minnesota.

[illegible]uis, Nov. 19.—E. B. Lilley, former general manager of the Express [illegible] Tribune, of Los Angeles, Cal., has been appointed general manager of the St. Louis Republic, it was announced tonight.

INFORMATION FROM NEAR EAST MEAGRE

Allies Still Most Concerned Over Problems There.

POSSIBLY NO CHANGES

Serbians May Take Stand on the Plain of Kossovo or in the Mountains of Montenegro or Northern Albania.

London, Nov. 19.—The position of the Serbian army and the attitude of Greece toward the Entente Powers are still the outstanding questions of interest in Europe. Reliable information on both situations is so meagre that the public is unable to judge what changes, if any, have taken place.

It is thought possible that the Serbians will make a stand on the historic plain of Kossovo, east of the Montenegrin frontier, where over 500 years ago they lost their independence to Turkey. They must either do this or retire into the mountains of Montenegro or northern Albania, where, although they would be nearer help from the Adriatic, it would be difficult to keep them supplied, owing to the absence of roads.

The Austro-Germans on the north are now within 30 miles of the Mitrovitza-Pristina line of the Serbians, while the Bulgarians in the south are said already to have passed Monastir.

As to the position of Greece, there have been no development, although a more hopeful feeling prevails in Paris and London since Denys Cochin's visit to King Constantine and the Greek ministers.

There have been lively artillery engagements in Alsace and at some other points on the west. In the East, the Germans report there is no change in the situation while Petrograd claims repulses of the Germans on the Dvina and Styr rivers.

The Italians still are hammering away at the Austrian positions on the Isonzo, but while they are gaining a little from day to day, they have not yet succeeded in the capture of Gorizia, which again has been under a heavy shell fire for several days.

GERMAN REPORTS DENIED

Denial Made in India of Press Statements Regarding Disorders.

London, Nov. 19.—The India office today made formal announcement that German press statements circulated in foreign countries regarding disorders in India are absolutely unfounded. The announcement specifically denies the report that a revolt has broken out anywhere in India or that Brahmins, Buddhists and Mohammedans have united to make difficulties for the "detested English" as stated from German sources."

Denial likewise is given to the assertion that the Rajah of Bhagipur has headed an uprising, or that grave disorders already have occurred in Bombay, Maras Nagpur, Alahabad and Maspur, or that rebels have interfered with the departure of native troops, causing the British troops to retire and subsequently occupying their barracks and arsenals.

"There is not a word of truth in these statements, from beginning to end" the secretary of state for India

PRIVATE BIDS EXCEED COST LIMIT OF SHIPS

Secretary Daniels Undecided as to Asking New Bids.

Question of Whether Government Will Construct the Two New Superdreadnoughts is Being Debated.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Careful review of the private bids for the hulls and machinery of the two new superdreadnaughts, authorized by the last Congress, has shown finally that none comes within the limit set by Congress. Secretary Daniels is undecided whether new bids will be asked or whether the government will make arrangements to build the ships in its own yards, all of which bid within the $7,800,000 limit. A study of the private bids which proposed various modifications shows the lowest figures to be as follows:

New York Shipbuilding Company $7,850,000; Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation $8,079,900; Newport News Shipbuilding Company $8,240,500.

The Newport News Company's bid was based on a 40-months construction period. The other two were figured on a 34-month period but predicted delay beyond that time due to inability to get structural steel because of the war orders in American steel mills. Navy yard estimates fall a million dollars below the lowest private competitor.

An investigation is being made as to the condition of the steel industry to determine the time necessary for the government to obtain itself the structural steel for the ships. There are suggestions of an embargo on foreign shipments to enable the government to get its supply.

Should the government decide to build both ships itself and the cost of construction be approximately the same for all yards, Secretary Daniels said today he would favor building one of the dreadnaughts at Mare Island.

SUSTAIN DOCTOR IN LETTING CHILD DIE

Morally and Ethically Justified, Says Coroner's Jury.

THE DOCTOR TESTIFIES

Advised Parents Against Operation After Consulting 15 Practicing Physicians—Certain Child Was Defective.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Six physicians, composing a coroner's jury, today held that Dr. H. J. Haiselden, who permitted an infant, John Bollinger, to die when an operation might have saved him to a life of unhappiness, was morally and ethically justified in refusing to perform the operation which his conscience did not sanction. An implied disapproval of a course wherein a physician might determine if it was or was not desirable for a patient to live was contained in the concluding paragraph of the verdict: "We believe that the physician's highest duty is to relieve suffering and save or prolong life."

The jury was composed of John F. Golden, Mercy Hospital; Arthur Rankin, professor of Anatomy Loyala University; D. Howard Chislett, dean of Nahnemann College, D. A. K. Steele, dean of the Physicians and Surgeons' College of the University of Illinois; Henry F. Lewis professor of Obstetrics, Cook county hospital, and Ludwig Hekton, professor of Pahtology, Rush Medical College of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Haiselden testified he did not reach his decision not to operate until he had consulted 15 practicing physicians, fourteen of whom approved his course. The mother of the child, wife of a working man and the mother of three other children, all physically and mentally normal, also agreed that the baby would be better off dead, he declared.

Had Two Reasons.

"I did not operate, first, because of the deformity of the child, and second, because of the seriousness of the case," he said. "I did not urge the parents to follow my advice. I simply gave my opinion as a consulting surgeon. I was morally certain the child would be a defective."

Dr. Haiselden said he was unable to determine beyond all doubt that the child was both deaf and blind. He said, however, it failed to respond to the customary light tests and the fact that one of the ears was not developed at all, and the development of the other was only rudimentary convinced him that the child was deaf. He showed a number of X-ray pictures of the child's anatomy.

Dr. John Dill Robertson, city health commissioner, who testified that there was no evidence that the child would have been mentally defective, issued a statement in part as follows:

Had Right to Live.

A question of tremendous importance is at once raised as to whether the right of any child to live would rest wholly on the judgment of any physician. I do not want to be understood as questioning the right of any physician to act as his conscience or judgment in any particular case would dictate and to operate or not operate in accordance therewith, but at the same time the life of every child should be

SAYS TREATY WAS DUE TO MENACE BY AUSTRIA

To Speak on Origin of Austro-Rumanian Agreement.

Former Rumanian Minister to Tell of Diplomatic Origin of Treaty Between the Two Countries in Speech Sunday.

Paris, Nov. 19.—"M. Jonescu, former Rumanian minister of the Interior, has announced," says a dispatch to the Temps from Bucharest dated Wednesday last, "that he would speak at Jassy on Sunday on the diplomatic origin of the treaty between Rumania and Austria-Hungary which, he said, was due to a menace on the part of Austria almost of the same nature as that to Serbia in 1914.

"M. Jonescu asserted that without this alliance in effect it is probable that Austria would have attacked Rumania as she did Serbia last year. He said he proposed to tell his compatriots their duty and of the catastrophe which will result in Rumania's failure to do it.

"'The Austro-Rumanian alliance has dominated Rumania's policy,' said M. Jonescu, 'except two years ago when Rumania sided with Serbia against Bulgaria which was upheld by Austria. This attempted emancipation surprised and frightened Vienna. It was one of the causes of inciting Austria to folly in 1914. A great mistake of Rumanian politicians has been to persist in this alliance when it has lost its reason for existence.

"'It is to this fatal alliance that we owe a big number of difficulties today, so many Rumanian officers, thanks to it, have studied in Germany and Austria without any benefit to our army. Moreover, thanks to it, we have no artillery, infantry, mountain artillery fortifications in the Carpathians and no gun and munitions factories.

PROTEST TO GO TO ALL BELLIGERENTS

America Will Raise Objection to Contraband Lists.

NOTE BEING PREPARED

When it is Forwarded to London Virtually Identical Notes Will Be Sent to France, Italy and the Teutonic Allies.

Washington, Nov. 19.—America's protest against the placing of nearly articles of commerce on the contraband lists of European belligerents will go to Germany and Austria as well as to Great Britain and her allies. In the last note to Great Britain regarding interferences with neutral trade, Secretary Lansing gave notice of an intention to make contraband the subject of a later communication, and preparation of this document already is in progress. Today it became known that when it is forwarded to London virtually identical notes will be dispatched to the Teutonic Allies and to France and Italy.

Recall Practices Before War

The note is approaching completion, but its dispatch will be delayed until it has been gone over carefully by Secretary Lansing and President Wilson and probably by the neutrality board. Generally it will be framed to recall to the belligerent powers the practices of nations in the treatment of contraband prior to the present war and even before the London conference which eventuated in the famous Declaration of London. The right of a belligerent to extend the list of absolute contraband beyond the limits recognized by international law before the outbreak of war will be challenged, and particular objection will be made to wholesale additions to the contraband list animated by spirit of [illegible]lation as in the case of nearly all of the present belligerents.

Reassert Right of Neutral State.

That declaration of contraband should be limited to articles not merely available for military use but designed chiefly for that purpose will be one of the principal contentions. This will involve a reassertion of the right of a neutral state, such as the United States, to ship such things as food supplies, cotton and copper to the civilian population of a belligerent country, under reasonable assurance that the goods will not be commandeered for military uses.

Particular objection will be made, it is understood, to the seizure of American goods, even though contraband, if they are destined for consumption in a neutral country and are not bound for a belligerent port.

FORMER PRINCETON STUDENT RELEASED BY THE BRITISH

Was Held in London Charged With Being German Spy.

London, Nov. 19.—Kenneth G. Triest, the former Princeton student held in London as a German spy, has been released by the British authorities and will leave with his father for the United States tomorrow.

Triest, who is said to be 18 years old, is the son of Wolfgang G. Triest, a New York contractor. He was arrested in London in October. Triest left Princeton last January and enlisted as a wireless operator in the British navy. Writing to an uncle in Germany, Trist, it was charged, promised to deliver in Berlin valuable secrets. It was the interception of this letter which led to his arrest. Representations made to the British government by the State Department at Washington resulted in [illegible]e trial being postponed until October 18 and then indefinitely. The elder Triest declared his son mentally unbalanced.

UNITED STATES INCREASING OUTPUT OF COAL TAR DYES

Statement Issued by Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Important increases in the production of coal tar dyes in the United States since the beginning of the European war are reported in an official statement today by the bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Nearly all the American coke ovens now are equipped to produce the coal tar bases from which dyes are manufactured. Meanwhile, prices so high that the dyestuff inpun the demand for the same bases for the manufacture of explosive has kept prices so, high that the dyestuff industry has been hampered.

"There is an increased confidence," said the statement, "among both manufacturers and consumers of dyestuffs that at an early date legislation may be secured from Congress which will give the necessary security to American manufacturers of synthetic colors that their industry will not be threatened by organized underselling at the close of the present war."

PROMOTIONS IN THE ARMY

Brigadier General T. H. Bliss Succeeds to Major General.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Brigadier General Tasker H. Bliss, assistant chief of staff of the army, became a major general today upon the retirement of Major William H. Carter. Col. John F. Morrison, of the 15th Infantry, now at Tientsin, China, will be promoted to a brigadier generalship taking the place of General Bliss in the line.

General Bliss will continue as assistant chief of staff with the probability of succeeding Major General Scott as chief upon the latter's retirement in 1917.

General Carter will be succeeded in command of the Hawaiian department [illegible]adier General John P. Wisser, command of first Hawaiian who will be relieved by Brigeneral Frederick S. Strong, now [illegible]ling the South Atlantic Coast district, at Charleston, S. C.

CHAMP CLARK FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Speaker Favors Programme Within Reasonable Limits.

CONFERS WITH WILSON

Confident Congress Will Work Out Legislation Satisfactory to All—Extension of War Tax Necessary, He Says.

Washington, Nov. 19. — Champ Clark, Speaker of the House, told President Wilson today that he favored a national defense programme within reasonable limits. He said he had not committed himself to the details of the administration's proposed army and navy increases, because he had not thoroughly considered them, but that he believed Congress would work out satisfactory legislation.

"I only talked to the President for a few minutes," said the Speaker. "We briefly discussed the army and navy programme. I frankly said that I would be in favor of legislation which would assure reasonable defense for the country against any possible enemy. I did not go into details. For one thing I think that there might be difficulty in working out the plan for raising the so-called continental army, but I am confident that Congress will work out a general scheme of increased defenses which will be satisfactory to everybody.

Has Given Much Thought.

Speaker Clark stopped over here on the way to speak in Pennsylvania, the President having written him recently expressing a wish to confer with him before Congress convened. He said he had given the subject of national preparedness much thought, and would take an active part in proposing legislation. He proposed to introduce a bill to double appointments to West Point and Annapolis and also to make it possible for any qualified youth to attend either institution at his own expense and at actual cost.

In his talk with the President, the Speaker said he realized that revenue legislation to meet the preparedness programme was essential, and that extension of the especial war tax would be necessary. As a possible means of increase in revenue, he suggested the reduction of exemption and increase of surtax in the income tax law, the continuation of the duty on sugar, and the sale of Panama bonds.

Mr. Clark said that published statements that he was going to leave the Speaker's chair to take charge of the preparedness measure were exaggerations. "The Speaker of the House can take the floor to discuss a subject any time he sees fit to do so," he added. "I might take an opportunity to address the House in the next session, but to say that I propose to assume floor leadership is buncombe."

Chairmen to Have Charge.

The recent announcement by Representative Claude Kitchin, majority leader of the House, of his opposition to the administration's national defense programme, was followed by the reports to which the speaker referred. It was pointed out tonight, however, that in so far as floor leadership was concerned, the army bill would be taken

WINDS DO DAMAGE TO WIRE COMMUNICATION

Shipping Endangered Along the Atlantic Coast.

Heavy Gales and Rain Swept New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New England States —Bark Driven Ashore.

Washington, Nov. 19. — The two storms which the last 24 hours moved toward each other from the South Atlantic coast and the Ohio valley, have formed a junction over western New York and Ontario, the Weather Bureau announced tonight. High winds continue along the seaboard, from Norfolk to Eastport, and over the Great Lakes.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Gales, accompanied by rain, swept over New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the New England states today, seriously interfering with telegraphic communication in many places and endangering shipping along the coast. A wind velocity of 72 miles was recorded in New York. Condition in these states, termed "the most unusual in many years" by the Weather Bureau, were created by a heavy storm moving in a northwesterly direction up the coast and another storm of almost equal intensity moving east and slightly north from the Ohio Valley. The Weather Bureau thought the two storms would meet over the New England states or the Great Lakes.

Heavy gales raged over the Atlantic from Jacksonville to Eastport, Me., but storm warning had been displayed, and [illegible] the exception of the Norwegian bark Killena, driven ashore near Brunswick, Ga., it was thought coastwise shipping for the most part

Uncle Sam Loses Him.

Dr. Joan F. Anderson.

Because Uncle Sam does not pay salaries sufficient to hold able scientists he is losing them like the many naval officers who have gone to munition plants. This is Dr. John F. Anderson, late director of the hygienic laboratory of the public health service. There he received a salary of $4,500.

One of the largest chemical concerns in the United States, which has its main plant at New Brunswick, N. J., wanted him, and an offer of $25,000 a year was made. He could not resist, so he has left the service of the United States.

HILLSTROM FIGHTS BEFORE HE IS SHOT

Attacked Guards Fiercely with Broom Handle.

HAS CLEAR CONSCIENCE

Put to Death by Firing Squad Early Yesterday—Governor Says He Intends to Put End to Lawlessness in Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah., Nov. 19.—Governor Spry, of Utah, tonight announced his intention to clear the state of the lawless element that now infests the state and see to it "that inflammatory street speaking is stopped." The governor's statement came as the aftermath to the execution of Joseph Hillstrom, a member of the I. W. W. and a native of Sweden, for the murder of J. G. Morrison and Morrison's son on January 10, 1914. Hillstrom was executed by a firing squad at 7:42 A. M. today.

Fights the Guards.

When the officers went to get Hillstrom they found he had tied the door of his cell with strips torn from his blankets. He fought the guards fiercely with the handle of a broom he had snatched from an attendant in the corridor but when he saw the sheriff he became calm, saying: "You can't blame a man for fighting for his life?"

Accompanied by the officers he walked to the death chair. After he was seated they asked him if he had anything to say. He said:

"Gentlemen, I die with a clear conscience. I never did anything wrong in my life. I die fighting, not like a coward. Well, I'm going, good-bye."

When the officer started to give the command to fire, Hillstrom yelled, "fire". The squad fired and the bullets pierced his heart. He was dead in one minute and ten seconds. None of Hillstrom's I. W. W. friends witnessed the execution.

I. W. W. Member Claims Body.

Ed Rowan, secretary of the local Industrial Workers of the World organization, claimed Hillstrom's body. He intimated it would be sent to Wyoming for burial, as requested by Hillstrom in a telegram to W. D. Haywood yesterday.

Telegrams were received this morning asserting that William Busky, of Seattle, had made an affidavit that he was with Hillstrom the night J. G. Morrison was murdered and that Hillstrom was innocent. The sheriff was requested to postpone the execution until this statement had been investigated. Warden Arthur Pratt, of the prison, then asked Hillstrom if he knew Busky and Hillstrom answered that he did not. The sheriff was then directed to proceed with the execution. The police later said investigation proved Busky's affidavit untrue.

President Wilson twice appealed for further respite for Hillstrom. The President's second request, made yesterday, was denied by Governor Spry as not based on any new facts.

The Swedish minister also had interested himself in Hillstrom's behalf and it was at his request that the President made his first request for a respite. The American Federation of Labor, in session at San Francisco, re-

CHANGE POLICY TO DEAL WITH PLOTS

And Other Activities Connected With European War.

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Announcement Indicates Bureau of Investigations of the Justice Department Will Hereafter Make Investigations.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The policy of the Department of Justice and Treasury Department in handling investigations of bomb plots, munition factory explosions, and similar matters was announced tonight in a statement authorized by Attorney General Gregory and Secretary McAdoo. It indicates that in the future the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice is to be the main reliance of the government in dealing with alleged criminal activities in this country connected with the European war.

The statement follows:

"In view of the widespread statements to the effect that the secret service force of the Treasury Department has been in charge of the investigation of all bomb plots, ship burnings, munitions factory explosions and the like, and the determination of whether the criminal statutes of the United States have been violated, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney General authorize the statement:

"That the different departments of the Federal Government have been instructed to furnish and are furnishing to each other all information received which will assist each department in performing the duties devolving upon it;

"That there is no disagreement between the departments as to their respective spheres and none is anticipated;

"That with the exception of crimes relating to counterfeiting and the pay and bounty laws, the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice is charged with the duty of investigating all information indicating violations of the criminal statutes of the United States, including conspiracies in violation of Federal criminal statutes, violations of interstate commerce statutes and passport frauds;

"That the instructions to the secret service of the Treasury are to promptly turn over to the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice any data developed by the former which will assist the latter in carrying out such investigations."

The secret service began investigating alleged plots involving American neutrality shortly after the war began and it is well known here that it has collected a mass of information bearing on activities of many kinds.

Scores of reports have been made to Secretary McAdoo and some of them are said to have gone up to President Wilson.

FIRED AT LIFE BOATS.

Italian Official Report Sent to Ambassador Page at Rome.

Naples, Nov. 16. (Delayed in transmission)—The official report of the investigation into the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona by a submarine off the Tunisian coast November 7, was sent to Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador at Rome, tonight. The investigation reached the conclusion that the submarine fired a shell against the wireless apparatus aboard the Ancona without any warning. The captain brought the vessel immediately to a halt.

The submarine having hoisted the Austrian flag the investigators found the Ancona was about to hoist the Italian ensign but the flag reached only half way up the mast when the submarine launched a torpedo which struck the steamer amidships.

The captain of the Ancona, the official account says, ordered the life boats lowered but while this was being done the submarine continued firing against the steamer's boats. Some of the boats were pierced by shots, obliging the survivors to use their clothes to stop the holes. In the meanwhile, it is alleged, those on board the submarine jeered at their victims.

SENATORIAL PRIMARY TO BE HELD IN TENNESSEE TODAY

One of Hottest Campaigns in State's History Just Closed.

Nashville, Nov. 19.—After one of the hottest campaigns in the state's history, Tennessee Democrats will hold a primary election tomorrow to select a nominee for the United States senatorship. Senator Luke Lea, of Nashville, is a candidate to succeed himself and is opposed by Congressman K. D. McKellar, of the Tenth district, and former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, both of Memphis.

Reports from various points in the state indicated a light vote will be cast, but in spite of this campaign managers for the various candidates were confident tonight of success. With practically no issue before the people, but prohibition, the fight in the past few months has developed an exchange of bitter personalities. All three candidates have declared in favor of the present prohibition laws.

BATTLE FOR POSSESSION OF HERMOSILLO HAS COMMENCED

Villa Defies Carranza and the United States in Proclamation.

Nogales, Ariz., Nov. 19.—The battle for possession of Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, has been in progress since late yesterday, according to advices received today at Nogales, Sonora, opposite here, by Villa officials. It was also reported that General Obregon, the Carranza leader, was repulsed in an engagement near Cananea.

SPORTS

EYES IN EAST SET ON HARVARD-YALE GAME

Meet Today for Big Football Event of the Season.

Yale With Strengthened Eleven Believes She Has Chance to Win, While Harvard is Taking No Chances—Other Games.

New York, Nov. 19.—While the Harvard-Yale contest overshadows all other football games to be played on Eastern gridirons tomorrow, there are several other struggles which will have an important bearing on the final alignment of the elevens of the season. The Dartmouth-Syracuse, Trinity-Wesleyan contests and those in which the service teams compete will be followed with more than usual keenness. Princeton has completed her schedule while Cornell and Pennsylvania are resting for their Thanksgiving day game.

Based upon the science of modern football, Harvard is favored to defeat Yale, but that the game will follow these lines is not at all certain since the gridiron form has received far more than the usual number of jolts and upsets this fall.

Yale, since her string of defeats at the hands of Washington and Jefferson Colgate, and Brown, has made remarkable strides under the coaching of Tom Shevlin and others. It was the development of a powerful fighting spirit and unusual keenness in following the ball rather than any advancement in team work either on attack or defense that gave the Blue victory over Princeton last Saturday. That the same methods applied to Harvard will result in another win appears unlikely, although it is conceded that the battle will be far closer than was thought a few weeks ago, for the Elis now believe and rightly so, that they have a chance of defeating the Crimson.

Harvard, however, is not unaware of the test that faces her tomorrow, for her leading players and coaches witnessed the turning of Yale against Princeton, and as a result do not underestimate the strength and possibilities of the Blue. The contest is likely to be played along cautious lines with an unusual amount of kicking.

In the other games tomorrow, Dartmouth and Syracuse are certain to have a battle royal with the odds favoring the Orange which has defeated decisively every eleven faced this fall except Princeton.

Both the Army and Navy are called upon to play teams of moderate strength and both should emerge victors. Springfield Y. M. C. A. training school, which meets the Cadets, has a fast but rather light eleven. The Middies will find Ursinus stronger in line plunging and end running plays and with a fair repertoire of aerial passes. These contests will be the final game for both Army and Navy before they meet in their annual inter-service battle.

Western games: Illinois at Chicago, Minnesota at Wisconsin, Iowa at Nebraska, Ohio State at Northwestern, Purdue at Indiana, Wabash at Depauw.

HARVARD STILL FAVORITE.

Wagering Odds Have Shortened Steadily in Favor of Yale.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 19.—On the eve of the annual Harvard-Yale football game, the Crimson continues to rank as favorite over the Blue, although the wagering odds have shortened steadily. Quotations were 5 to 4 this evening and it was predicted that the Elis would enter the game very close to if not an even choice.

A heavy rain today is believed to have penetrated the thick coating of straw spread over the gridiron and softened the turf to an extent which will militate against the fast open running attack expected from Harvard's backfield.

As a result close followers of the football fortunes of the two elevens are readjusting their ideas of the probabilities of play. The Yale backfield have a considerable advantage in weight and on a wet, slippery turf this would count for more than the speedy, elusive sprints of Mahan and Boles.

The possibility of inclement weather did not check enthusiasm in the biggest of all Eastern football classics, and tonight every hotel is thronged. Special trains will add thousands to the gathering of football enthusiasts tomorrow. Close to 50,000 spectators will occupy every seat in the permanent and temporary stands.

FEW SOUTHERN GAMES

Georgetown-South Carolina Struggle is the Most Important.

Atlanta, Nov. 19.—The only important game between Southern football teams scheduled for tomorrow is that between Georgetown and the University of South Carolina at Washington. Most of the other teams will have their final scrimmage practices and then rest until Thanksgiving day.

Both South Carolina and Georgetown have good records for the season. The former, nowever, has played through the harder struggle. While Georgetown last week was beating the North Carolina Aggies by a decisive score the South Carolina team was holding Virginia to two touchdowns Probably the most important games on the remainder of the schedulde are the contests between Hamden Sydney and Randolph Macon at Lynchburg, Va., and the Richmond College-William and Mary contest at Richmond.

Other games scheduled include: Gallaudet vs. Western Maryland at Washington, D. C.; Louisiana College vs. Southwestern Louisiana at Penville, Pa.; Southern vs. Stetson at Tampa, Fla.

MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

Directors and Officers Elected for Citizens' Bank for Ensuing Year.

The second annual meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' Bank was held this week and the following officers were elected: President, H. F. Wilder; vice president, T. E. Sprunt; cashier, Richard Bradley.

The following with the officers compose the board of directors: Messrs. C. D. Weeks, W. H. Brown, T. E. Sprunt, H. F. Wilder, W. M. Cumming, Richard Bradley and R. G. Grady.

Mr. R. E. Williams presided at the meeting and Mr. Richard Bradley acted as secretary.

The president reported the bank in a fine condition, the deposits and business having been more than doubled since the report of a year ago, with the prospects for the future most encouraging.

The stockholders received 6 per cent dividend the past year with a nice amount carried to surplus.

ROGERS DEFEATED BY HANSON

Visitor's Ability to Break Hammerlock Feature of Wrestling Match —Local Man Thrown Once.

Fritz Hanson, of this city, won out over Yankee Rogers, of Fall River, Mass., in a beautiful wrestling exhibition at Woolvin Hall last evening, the local welterweight taking the first and third falls and the visitor the second. Hanson secured both his falls with the hammerlock, the first going 53 1-2 minutes and the last not quite 12. In the second fall Rogers down Hanson in 9 1-2 with a head chancery and bar hold. Rogers weighed in at 165 and Hanson at 153.

This was Rogers' first match for this season, and he does not appear to be in the best of condition. However, with his advantage in weight, he made Hanson a worthy opponent, and the match was one of the most enjoyable witnessed here in some time.

Probably the most remarkable feature about Rogers' work last night was his ability to break the hammerlock. During the first fall Hanson secured this hold nearly a dozen times, only to have his opponent come out of it in the most spectacular manner. Rogers is the equal of Mainfort in breaking the hammerlock.

However, the constant strain on arm proved too much, and at the end of 53 1-2 minutes Hanson secured one that was too much for the Fall River man, who, after enduring the punishment for several minutes, threw up his hand and forfeited the fall to Hanson.

Rogers came back from the intermission apparently much refreshed, and during the second fall he was more on the aggressive than at any other stage of the match. He pinned Hanson down in 9 1-2 minutes, using a head chancery and bar lock.

The third fall went not quite 12 minutes, Hanson winning this one with the hammerlock also.

Rogers, in a short talk after the match, expressed his desire to meet Hanson again, declaring that he believed he could defeat the local man if given a little time to get in good condition. Another match may be arranged between the two men.

Jimmy Wade refereed the first and third fall of the match last night, while Billie Tomz officiated during the second fall.

The preliminaries las night were between young Wood and "Red" Rembert, two fast and clever local youngsters, who wrestled for 15 minutes without a fall.

While the attendance last night was not so large as that at some of the other matches recently, there was quite a good crowd present.

NOW UP TO BUSINESS MEN

Baseball Fans of City Have Subscribed Half of Stock of Proposed Company to Secure Club.

The baseball fans of the city have subscribed half of the stock of the proposed $5,000 to secure league baseball for Wilmington and now declare that it is up to the business men to show their interest in this proposition. To this end, representatives will make a canvass of the city today to find out what the business men will do towards helping along the cause.

The meeting of the directors of the Virginia League, which was to have been held in Norfolk on Thursday, was postponed until Monday night in order to give Wilmington an opportunity to get up the stock company. Those interested in the movement have worked early and late and have never given up hope nor have they done so yet. They have shown their interest in the movement by subscribing for stock and now appeal to the business men to help them out.

The stock in the proposed company is assessed at $5 a share and the authorized capital is to be $5,000. With this amount it is believed that the organization can be safely financed and a berth in the Virginia League will be assured.

Does Wilmington want baseball? Now, if ever, is the time to get busy and say so, say the backers of the sport.

SEVERAL CHALLENGERE WANT MATCHES HERE

Hanson, Local Wrestling Favorite, Has Plenty of Chances.

The mat fans during the winter have a series of interesting events before them if Hanson, the local wrestler, takes on the several challengers who are trying to arrange meets with him. The Star yesterday received a letter from George Parker, 220 Mulberry street, Williamsport, Pa., stating that he had sent a challenge to Hanson early this fall but had received no reply either from him or from his promoter. Parker's letter is as follows; "Sporting Editor, Morning Star.

"Dear Sir: I have sent a challenge to Fritz Hanson through your paper early this fall, but as yet I have received no reply from he or his promoter.

"If Mr. Hanson is afraid to wrestle, why doesn't he come out and say, and not keep side-stepping, as he has been doing in the past. Or possibly, his promoters are the ones who are slow about accepting my challenge.

"I wrestle at 155 pounds, and I have five victories to my credit so far this season, and I would like to add one more to the list before the holidays. "Come on Hanson, be a sport. Wrestle a good man once in your life anyway."

"Hoping to receive some kind of a reply at an early date, and thanking you in advance for your trouble and space in your valuable paper, I am

"Truly yours,

"GEORGE PARKER."

Joe Miller is also anxious for a match as the following letter from him yesterday indicates:

"Norfolk, Va., Nov. 18, 1915.

"Sporting Editor: Just arrived from Richmond where I have been for 12 days on account of broken shoulder. I am al right now and think I can take on Mr. Hanson, as I agreed to do. I didn't think it clean sport to take the match when I was not in perfect condition, and crippled and knew I could not give the public a run for their money. I have seen for myself that there are a good class of sports and clean sports in your city, and that they will patronize clean sport. I will be O. K., and in good shape by next week and if you, or the promoter will give me the match, I will be there in pink top condition for a hard bout.

"Yours in sport,

"JOE MILLER."

BRAVES WIN ANOTHER

Dodgers Tie Reds Again for First Place.

	W	L	Pct.
Dodgers	5	2	.714
Reds	5	2	.714
Braves	2	5	.286
Seminoles	2	5	.286

Results Last Night.

Reds 20, Braves 26.

Dodgers 31, Seminoles 18.

Two fast and interesting games were put up at the Boys' Brigade armory last night by the Friday Night League teams. There was a large crowd of spectators present and rooting was plentiful, for all teams. The Braves, steady occupants of the cellar, took the measure of the Reds, holding first position, and now tie the Seminoles for third position. The Dodgers, by winning from the latter team, for the second time are tied with the Reds for first position.

In the first game it was nip and tuck, as can be imagined by the close score. The Braves, strengthened by the addition of Cliff Dixon, are about the same weight of the other teams now, and they promise to continue their winning streak, or know a good reason why not. The Reds played a new man at center, Irving Davis, and this tall young player from the Wednesday League—the tallest now playing, promises to make a valuable man for somebody. Ellis, for the Braves, led in the scoring in this game, securing a total of four goals, while Captain Snakenburg threw two more of the long and difficult shots than seem to be his specialty.

In the second game the Dodgers walked away with the Seminoles to the tune of 31 to 18. "Happy" Register, for the Dodgers, was the star of this game, with eight goals, or a total of 16 points, and Bruce Cameron, although guarded by Louis Hanson, a hard guard, came second with six points for the Dodgers. Captain Montgomery and "Slick" Davis held the guard end down in great fashion, holding Harry Register and "Scope" Irving, respectively to two and one goal, and big Herman Gerdes playing center added two goals to the total for the Dodgers. For the Seminoles, H. Register, in addition to two field goals, made good six out of nine chances at foul goals, while every other man on the team secured one goal each, totaling 18 points in all.

Officials last night were: Timekeeper, H. L. Dixon; scorer, J. Fowler; Assistant scorer, W. Ruark; referee, H. King; umpire, F. Fick.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE WINS

Members of Y. M. C. A. Speakers' Club Have Enthusiastic Debate.

After a hotly contested debate by members of the Y. M. C. A. Speakers club, the judges by two to one vote decided that the side advocating woman suffrage had the best of the argument. The judges were: Messrs. W. A. Marshall, P. H. Gray and J. B. Smith.

The club is making fine progress. The members have formed a class for the study of the fundamental principles of public speaking and debating and have secured a good instructor for this purpose.

The next debate will be held on Friday night when the question will be: "Resolved, That capital punishment should be abolished in the United States."

Prize Winners Announced.

Mrs. R. T. Watkins, No. 412 North Front street, was the winner of a 60-pound case of sugar in a voting contest conducted by the Franklin Sugar Co., at their booth in the Corn Show. Another 60-pound case was also offered but the holder of the lucky number, 3,115, was not present last night. She can get the sugar by calling at the booth today. Miss Julia Stone drew the numbers.

BETTER THAN STATE FAIR.

Prof. W. N. Hutt, of Raleigh, Writes Mr. Herring About Corn Show.

A letter from Prof. W. N. Hutt, of Raleigh, State horticulturist and chairman of the State Fair committee, speaks in high praise of the Corn and Agricultural show. Professor Hutt writes:

"Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 18, 1915

"Dear Mr. Herring:

"I have just had a talk with Mr. Pate regarding your fair and he speaks in such glowing terms of the work which you have accomplished in your county that I want to take this opportunity of congratulating you on the splendid work you have done for your community. Mr. Pate tells me that the general exhibits of vegetables, hay, peanuts, cowpeas, etc., were better in quality than most exhibits shown at the State Fair. I believe it is entirely due to your efforts in this direction that such satisfactory results were accomplished in such a short time.

"Owing to the low condition of our exchequer, it may be some time before the Department's premium money is sent you, but I will see that your fair is dealt with in as liberal manner as our finances will warrant.

"I am, "Very truly yours.

"W. N. HUTT,

"Chairman of State Fair Committee."

Pittsburg, Nov. 19.—The Pittsburg National League baseball club announced today that it had signed B. W. Cleveland, an infielder of Norfolk, Va.

MR. KITCHIN DENOUNCED BY LEADERS IN SECOND

Must Get in Line or Down and Out, Say Some of Them

Declare "This Part of North Carolina Wants a Congressman Who is With the President," Especially on Preparedness.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 19.—"When the Democratic party was in the minority, it was not so important where Mr. Kitchin stood, but since the party is in the ascendancy, where we tried for years to put it, it is not right that our representative should stand off and fight it. He fought it on two important issues and, unless I hear wrong, the district will not tolerate similar action on so vital an issue as national defense."

This is the way former State Senator Jno. E. Woodard, one of the political leaders of this district, puts his opinion in the matter of the position taken by Representative Claude Kitchin concerning preparedness. For years, Mr. Woodard has kept in close touch with the Second district and has been mentioned as a possibility for congressional honors. He states, however, that he is not a candidate.

Another active politician, one who has always been recognized as a leader, Mr. W. P. Anderson, one of the Wilson tobacco warehousemen and well informed, is very bitter in his expression. Mr. Anderson said:

"I would gladly give a thousand dollars toward a fund to start a campaign to nominate some one else. He had no business opposing the President and he will undoubtedly be punished for it when he comes up for renomination next year."

Editor John D. Gold, previous to this time an ardent supporter of Representative Kitchin, is actively attacking his position in the editorial columns of The Times and is further reprinting each day the news stories being sent to the New York Herald from this district.

In discussing the question, Mr. John E. Woodard, in addition to the statement quoted above said:

"There is no doubt that there is the strongest kind of feeling in the district against Mr. Kitchin's attitude. If he swings into line with the President, he will undoubtedly be renominated and he may anyway, but if he stands out against the administration there will be a fight against him. There is not the slightest doubt of that. This part of North Carolina wants a man in Congress who is with the President. That is where he should be. He belongs there, regardless of the issue, but in this case, the President is absolutely right and the people of the entire country recognize it. We are strong Wilson men down here. Mr. Bryan's influence is gone. We are also strong believers in the policy of self-defense—National preparedness.

"If Mr. Kitchin can't follow along this path, which is so indelibly marked out for him, it is the duty of the district to get some one else and the district will do it. You may be assured of that."

Another of the New York newspapers has entered the ring and a telegram from the New York American to Editor John D. Gold, of the Wilson Times, this morning asks for a telegraphic statement concerning the opinions of Second district people in the matter of "preparedness." Editor Gold published the telegram and his reply this afternoon, merely repeating the recently published statement to the effect that the district is practically unanimous in standing by President Wilson.

Political leaders here have no sympathy with the repeated talk of supplanting Representative Kitchin as leader in the House. It is also stated today that when the statement of Mr. Kitchin appears those who have opposed his position will receive a better understanding.

In the meantime there is much talk of the possibility of candidates at the expiration of the present term of Mr. Kitchin. There are a number of men scattered through the district who would be willing to make the race if success seemed possible.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—George W. Perkins, conferring here today with leaders of the Progressive party, said that "the Progressive party must and will have a national ticket in the field in 1916."

REVENUE FROM FERTILIZER SHOWS BIG DECREASE

Problem That Board of Agriculture Has to Face.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 19.—The State Board of Agriculture will meet in annual session December 1 to lay plans for the work of the department for the next six months. One of the problems will be just how to plan the work in the light of the evident falling off in the revenue from fertilizer tags, which constitutes the principal revenue of the department. The indications are that the board will lay plans on the basis of normal revenue this season and await developments as to the movement of fertilizers in the spring, hoping for an increase that will overcome the handicap being experienced now.

LAY CORNERSTONE TODAY.

McKinley Memorial Building Being Erected at Niles, Ohio.

Niles, O., Nov. 19.—Units of state troops, United Spanish War Veterans, Grand Army of the Republic and many civic organizations arrived in Niles today to participate tomorrow in the ceremonies incidental to the laying of the cornerstone of the McKinley memorial building. This was the birthplace of the 25th President and the building will be known as "The National McKinley Birthplace Memorial."

Speakers of national prominence, of Congress and officials of and nation, will take active he ceremonies or be present . There will be a big parade of the veterans' organizations and a programme of music by the United States marine band. Speeches are to be delivered by Governor Frank Willis, of Ohio; Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, former United States ambassador to France; James E. Hoyt, of Cleveland, a warm personal friend of McKinley, and L. C. Dyer, a member of Congress from St. Louis and commander of the United Spanish War Veterans.

NEXT AT WINSTON-SALEM

Methodist Protestant Conference Decides on Meeting Place.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 19.—The Methodist Protestant Conference of North Carolina today selected Winston-Salem as the next place of meeting. The children's home report received today was very pleasing to the body.

GOLDSBORO SAYS WILMINGTON DIDN'T GET A SQUARE DEAL.

In Football Contest at Raleigh—Goldsboro-Wilmington Game?

(By Emmett R. Brown.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 19.—According to the decision of the committee from Chapel Hill in regard to the Eastern North Carolina State-wide football contest, the final preliminary was arranged to be played in this city between Wilmington and Goldsboro. Should this decision hold good, which will be contested as an injustice to the Goldsboro school by the officials, and should the local team go down in defeat in the contest with Wilmington, there will be no hard feeling against Wilmington, as spectators at the game between Wilmington and Raleigh, at Raleigh, claim the Wilmington team was not given a square deal and really deserved a victory over the Raleigh team. Therefore, the local team is heartily in sympathy with the Wilmington High School, which doubtless, as does Goldsboro, feels as though it has been discriminated against.

Be this as it may, however, according to the statements of those who have seen the two teams in action, the contest between them would prove a lively one, and after the smoke of battle had cleared away neither team would have much ground to crow over a victory, and would also make it lively for Charlotte in the contest for the State championship.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Is Harmless To Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

TOP O' THE MORNING

I think, generally, that fear of open discussion implies feebleness of inward conviction; and great sensitiveness to the expression of individual opinion is a mark of weakness.

—OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Why not mobilize the horse marines?

"Fair grounds" will be needed for the big fair next year.

Not till a lion gets cornered does it do its best fighting.

Wilmington's Corn and Agricultural Fair has been amazingly gratifying.

Better buildings! Build pretty new ones and, for goodness sake, keep the old ones in repair.

"A good man without is needful there be, But a good housewife within is needful as he."

When you hear a man call Broadway the Peachtree street of New York, you may know he is from Atlanta.

We have displayed the possibilities in this region. Now let's us go to work and make them greater realites.

The editor of the Ladies Home Journal is said to be a millionaire, but with all that wealth the editor is no lady.

The Democratic party can prove that it is the Old Guard of the whole country.

New Orleans is to give a dinner to her young men. It is a good thing to be a young man in some cities.

There are plenty of people who are always tired of something. The floating, shifting, shiftless and thriftless voters have to be reckoned with.

It is reported that Villa has been wounded but the report is not so serious as the several reports that he had been killed at different times.

Great Britain got into the war because she desired to protect Belgium, but she is staying in it in order to make Kaiser Bill call for the calf rope.

An office looks terrible to a Republican when a Democrat is in it officiating in a way and taking himself seriously enough to pocket more or less emoluments.

Wilmington's fair for the exhibition of possibilities as well as corn has proved to be so attractive that most everybody wishes it were a permanent affair.

It is quite possible that peace at any price would make us feel cheap, if, in addition to the price, we should have to pay millions in tribute to some cocky nation.

Colonel Bryan received $1,500 for a peace talk in Boston. If we could get people to pay us that much for it, we would begin to love to talk peace of all kinds.

Grandiloquence of all kinds has to be pair for. Without exception, all men who can produce a high sounding monologue want gate receipts for it from those who are willing to pay for listening.

A man has prodigious confidence in his judgment when he boldly asserts that he knows he is right and thousands are wrong. He does not seem to believe in majority rule.

Now, while the iron is hot, is the time to strike for a fair association, an organization to make the Wilmington fair a permanent institution, growing better, bigger and broader every year on a solid foundation.

Several newspapers are endeavoring to defend Representative Claude Kitchin in the position he has taken against national defense. Our impression is that he is not a believer in defense at all, so what is the use to come to his defense? If he believes in it for himself, why should he not believe in it for the Nation?

THIS CITY'S MANUFACTURING PROGRESS.

The Manufacturers' Record points to Wilmington's industrial growth as an object lesson to Southern cities, and we might add that it is a further incentive to Wilmington to largely increase the number and kind of her factories and tremendously expand the volume and value of their products. The Star recently published statistics furnished by Director of the Census Sam L. Rogers concerning the industrial growth of Wilmington, and the facts revealed are so notable that such a publication as the Record thinks that the industrial progress of this city is worthy of the attention of the whole South. That keen sighted journal briefly but strikingly analyzes in this way:

"The suggestion made in the Manufacturers Record last week that greater attention ought to be given to the industrial development of the country from Richmond to Tampa, and, the statement that there are very great possibilities for manufacturing in that section, find an apt illustration in the census report just issued, showing that at the end of 1914 Wilmington, N. C., had a capital invested in manufacturing of $3,699,000, as compared with $2,022,000 in 1909, a gain of nearly 83 per cent. The value of products of the Wilmington factories in 1914 was $5,026,000, and in 1909, $3,005,000, an increase of over $2,000,000, or 67 per cent. This is an exceedingly interesting proof of what can be done in that section of country, and what is being done, notwithstanding the fact that all of that region has never had the enthusiastic co-operation of people and railroads in adequately stimulating industrial activities."

The foregoing reference is both pleasing and encouraging. It helps us to better understand our industrial progress and to appreciate the full meaning of the industrial achievements here during the past few years and to consider them as a potential factor in the present substantial growth of Wilmington. Taking another analytical view of the government figures as to our manufacturing interests, let us say that they have increased at a rate of more than 16 per cent per annum during five years, while the increased industrial investments lack only 17 per cent of being twice as great in 1914 as they were in 1909. That is the meaning of the 83 per cent increase of the money put into industries in Wilmington.

There is still a better view of it in a comparative consideration of the money value of the products of Wilmington factories. On an investment of $3,699,000 in factories they turned out products worth, in 1914, $5,026,000, which exceeds the capital by $1,327,000. Such figures clearly indicate the earning capacity of the money invested in industries and indicate the profitableness of the different lines of manufacturing in Wilmington.

The money value of Wilmington's manufactured products was $3,005,000 in 1909, while they jumped to $5,026,000 in 1914, an increase of $2,000,000, or 67 per cent. The real meaning of this is that our manufactured products in 1914 were worth two-thirds more than they were five years previously. The figures really become astonishing when they are considered in their true light. The meaning of this in the employment of people and the distribution of wages can be readily perceived.

Yes, it is not only "exceedingly interesting proof" of what can be done in the South, but is exceedingly interesting proof of what Wilmington is doing. Her industries are growing, are earning more money and paying out more wages, and all that means success of a most gratifying nature.

It ought to stimulate us to greater effort and we should not only do more manufacturing ourselves but emphasize the reason that Wilmington is advantageous for manufacturing of all kinds. The main advantage is one of transportation by both rail and water for both raw material and manufactured products. A keen manufacturer will see at once the tremendous advantage of having a factory where he can load or discharge either cars or ships at his plant. Many Wilmington factories are doing it. Hundreds of others ought to be doing it.

Wilmington's mid-Atlantic location also makes her the key to a tremendous distributing territory, reaching northward into Northern territory; reaching southward into Southern territory, or reaching westward into Western territory. That alone ought to make Wilmington the South's greatest manufacturing city as well as the leading port of the South Atlantic.

People abroad interested in manufacturing for either the domestic or export trade should not make the mistake of locating their factories where they cannot get the economic advantage of transportation and distribution by the double means of rail and water. It is a shame to let them make mistakes in location, and it is up to us to get busy and see that they do not do it.

Of course, other places offer water and rail facilities, but other places do not occupy the same place on the map as Wilmington. The map is a good thing to look at when receiving and distributing territory should be considered along with all other advantages.

LET 'EM SEE THE BOOKS.

The North Carolina Republican and Progressive fragments are getting together for the purpose of reorganizing the G. O. P. for next year's campaign. They are going to hold a convention and it can be plainly seen that they intend to run a State ticket as well as support the Republican national ticket. So far as the State contest is concerned, they are going to make a hue and cry about Democratic extravagance and burdensome taxation, and now they are doing some loud talking about taking a peep at the books at Raleigh. As to that the Charlotte Observer says:

"The Observer views not with alarm, but with satisfaction, the decision of the Republican party in North Carolina to conduct an examination of the books of the officers in the State Departments at Raleigh. We take it that competent accountants will be employed and in the work they will undertake they will have whatever of assistance they may call for from the State officials. We do not know that the State departments have ever undergone an examination of the kind proposed. The people have been content with the examinations that have been made under the requirements of the laws of the State. For years the Republicans have intimated that affairs at Raleigh have not been exactly straight—that the Democratic administration has not managed the finances of North Carolina in the successful and satisfactory manner in which they would have been managed by a Republican administration. So, they have decided that they will make an investigation, and we are shortly to see whether the Republicans will find themselves in position to make good these charges and insinuations, or whether they will be forced with the necessity of making explanations, if not apologies, to the people of the State."

Why, let them look the books over, and the examiners should be handed cigars while they are doing it. The Republicans have a perfect right to see the books so they can find out how some of their money goes. They are taxpayers, and not only Republican taxpayers but Democratic taxpayers ought to know how every cent of their money is spent and what it is spent for and what it gets for the State and all its people of all parties. That is what a State is—it is the people—and it is the people's state.

Democrats in office ought never to be scared of any Republican book examiner that may ever put in his appearance at any time. All Democrats ought to be glad that the books are going to be scrutinized, for if there is either mistakes or extravagance or what-you-may-call-'em, the Democrats want to know it, too. They want to know whether their stewards are faithful to their trust or not, but if everything isn't O. K., the Democrats will want to put some new Democratic hands at the bellows. Democrats certainly will not want any Republicans monkeying around and attending to offices that Democrats can look after themselves.

The Democracy of North Carolina wants efficiency and integrity in office, and if one set of Democratic officials can't measure up to the standard they can try other Democrats in their stead, even if they have to try every capable, honest and deserving Democrat in North Carolina. We are in favor of trying every Democrat in order to give satisfaction.

Why, if the Democrats can't run the great State of North Carolina, she is a "gone coon," for the Republicans have had the whole State in their hands twice and it came very nearly sticking to them both times. Honestly, North Carolina would, indeed, have a poor showing if we had to depend on North Carolina Republicans to give this State an administration that would smell good after they got warmed up in their offices.

We are willing to put in other Democrats if necessary to straighten things out, if they need it, but we are "from Missouri" as to Republicans in places of trust in North Carolina. If we wanted to give them a showing, we would be afraid to do it because we have seen them fail and make a horrible mess of North Carolina every time they got a showing. We would like to see them do something nice one time, so they could redeem themselves, but the people of North Carolina can't afford to take any chances on any bunch that has been such a signal, woeful and calamitous failure as North Carolina Republicanism. They haven't been on probation long enough.

The Republicans in this State ought to keep themselves in exile for at least two generations before they can hope to once again endeavor to make a State loving Carolinian trust his State to the Republican party.

THE LESSON OF THE FAIR

The lesson we have learned from the corn show and industrial and agricultural fair held in Wilmington this week should be the means of enlightening us on broader lines as to the possibilities of this incomparable region and the great opportunities that lie in it for us. For years The Star has emphasized the splendid resources and immense possibilities of Eastern North Carolina, and many have thought us extravagant, but the fair has more than demonstrated that few of us have the slightest conception of the magnitude of the advantages possessed by this section. The exhibits proclaimed them and we have had ocular demonstration of them. They only show us what the possibilities are, and it is for us to develop them along every line made so plain to us by the great variety and superiority of the products displayed where we could lay eyes upon them.

The fair, although a community improvization, has been a tremendous success and we have failed to learn anything from it if it has not brought us to the conception that horticulture and agriculture can be utilized as rare potential factors in the upbuilding of Wilmington and all the resourceful counties of Eastern North Carolina. Strangers who have visited our fair have been utterly astonished. A gentleman who had official connection with the great exposition at San Diego, California, this year, unhesitatingly declared that for variety, quality and superiority of products displayed, and for the taste manifested in the arrangement of the exhibits, our fair surpassed that in California's garden spot region. Several visitors to the recent State fair at Raleigh declare that as a productive exhibit the Wilmington fair takes first rank. An expert who says he has taken in the State fair and fourteen county fairs this year gave the palm to the Wilmington display. So did some who have visited the State fair several years out of the last dozen.

Several visitors from Western North Carolina declare that Wilmington's improvised fair was a revelation to them. They grew enthusiastic over it, because they little dreamed that we had here the resources upon which to draw for such an exhibition of the possibilities and opportunities of this rare of sections—the premier part of the Nation's Garden Spot. We have for once marshalled some of the evidences of one of our vast resources, and certainly there should be no halting after we have shown and seen what we can do when we only half try to do it.

Organization of a regular fair association plainly suggests our duty to us. We must go ahead on broader lines, for in such displays of our magnificent resources lies the completer development they need. They give us the opportunity to make a greater Wilmington and a greater Eastern North Carolina. We have blazed the way and we should be faithful, earnest and zealous workers in a field of the most inconceivable potentialities. Our great opportunity is here!

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Republicans have so far succeeded in keeping their man for Governor in the dark; that is to say, from public view. We are encouraged to believe they would not be talking so loudly about Dr. Cy Thompson, unless there is a wink of understanding between them.—Charlotte Observer.

Wilmington citizens are this week holding a corn and agricultural show and the event is proving to be one of the most auspicious ever held there. "The Wilmington way" is noted all over the State and it was generally conceded that this event would prove to be worthwhile. The New Hanover capital is a live wire city and deserves all of the good things that are coming its way.—Newbern Sun.

Referring to the Republican gathering in Raleigh on Wednesday of this week the Winston-Salem Journal expressed the view that it would not be so much of an "anti Democratic" as a "pro-pietic" affair, and continues: "Ex-President Taft once let it be understood that he looked upon the average Republican leader of North Carolina as a victim of the disease known in the world of science as 'pietus.' And we have no reason to believe that they have been cured."—Raleigh News and Observer.

The Observer has come to the conclusion that so long as a tent represents the main exhibit hall of the Charlotte fair, the people will regard the fair as on a temporary and experimental basis and the volume and variety of the exhibits will be limited to that extent. The patronage under adverse circumstances has been of a character that demonstrates the fact that a permanently successful fair could be established here, one that would not only perform all the better functions of the real article of an agricultural fair, but return a good dividend over expenditures for premiums and other expenses. The grounds should be equipped with modern county fair buildings against the opening of the next fair and the permanency of one of the best fairs in the South would be assured. The number of building and loan associations in Charlotte and the number of buildings on the fair grounds are unreasonably out of proportion.—Charlotte Observer.

YOUR BRONCHIAL TUBES

When a cold settles in the bronchial tubes, with that weakening, tickling cough, immediate treatment is very important. The breath seems shorter because of mucous obstructions; usually fever is present, your head jars with every cough and your chest may ache. This is no time for experimenting or delay—you must get Scott's Emulsion at once to drive out the cold which started the trouble, and it will check the cough by aiding the healing process of the enfeebled membranes.

If you have any symptoms of bronchitis, or even a stubborn cold, always remember that Scott's Emulsion has been relieving this trouble for forty years. It is free from alcohol or drugs. Refuse substitutes.

CORN SHOW CONTINUES OPEN UNTIL TONIGHT

Crowds Filled Tents Again All Day Yesterday

Weather Was Ideal for Wilmington's Big Fair—Baby Show Was a Feature—Mr. Herring Given Watch—Dance Tonight.

The Corn and Agricultural Show did not close last night, as had been originally planned, the management deciding yesterday that it would be better to extend the length of the time for the fair another day in order that as many people as possible may be able to see the many splendid exhibits. Sunny skies yesterday brought good cheer and thousands of people visited the fair, while another day of sunshine is promised for today.

It was really surprising to the visitors to the fair yesterday to find how well the tents stood up under the driving wind and rain of Thursday night. It was such a rain as seldom comes to Wilmington and while great inconvenience was caused the exhibitors, the damage was inconsiderable and yesterday everything was spick and span.

Tonight at 10 o'clock the fair will close and the Corn Show of 1915 will be history. So great has been its success and so enthusiastic are the citizens of the city and the entire surrounding section that a fair on a much bigger scale is assured for next year. Steps will be taken within a few days to organize a fair association which will immediately formulate plans for having a really big fair here next year for the southeastern section of the State.

The crowds yesterday were nearly as large as on Wednesday when the attendance was between 5,000 and 6,000. It is expected that fully as many people will visit the fair today as yesterday.

The baby show yesterday afternoon was a feature that created much enthusiasm. There were hundreds of babies and a vast throug of people. The judges had a hard task to make their decisions but after several hours of inspection of the many youngsters they announced their award of prizes.

Appreciate His Work.

Mr. J. P. Herring, county farm demonstration agent, who has worked early and late in making preparation for the fair and whose enthusiasm has had much to do with its success, was presented yesterday at noon with a gold watch and $50 in gold by his admiring friends of the city and county. It was a surprise to Mr. Herring for he had been too busy with the fair to think about anything else. He was waited upon by a delegation of citizens, headed by Chairman W. A. McGirt, of the Board of County Commissioners, who was the spokesman. Mr. McGirt made a short address in which he paid tribute to the splendid work Mr. Herring had done and then presented the watch and the money. Mr. Henderson Cole, who had much to do with getting up the money and the watch, and who by the way is one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the fair, made a few remarks along the same line. It was up to Mr. Herring to say something in appreciation which he did in his modest manner. He assured his friends that he appreciated their gift and more particularly the motive that prompted it.

Corn Show Ball Tonight.

One of the pleasant social events of the week will be the Corn Show ball tonight in Woolvin Hall which has been arranged by Mrs. Paul Cantwell. The doors will open promptly at 9 o'clock and the public is cordially invited. This will be the closing event of the fair. The programme for the evening will be one that will appeal to all.

One of the features of the closing unique features of the ball will be the dancing of the Highland Fling by Mr. W. O. S. Southerland, a native of Scotland, in native costume. Mr. Southerland is a descendant of one of the highland clans of Scotland. Miss Florence Taylor and Mr. Robert Strange will appear in a special dance. Master Thomas Wright and little Miss Helen Reilly will give a combination exposition of the one-step, fox trot and hesitation dances. The W. L. I. quartette will render a musical number and Mrs. Meares Harriss will play a violin solo. Last, but not least, will be the dancing contest which will be open to all. The prizes for this contest are on exhibition at Honnet's. Tickets admit either a lady and a gentleman or two ladies and may be secured at Honnet's.

One of the features of the closinh day of the Show will be music by the Hanover Concert Band today and by Mrs. Luck's orchestra tonight. Mrs. Luck's orchestra gave a concert last night and the selections were greatly enjoyed by the big crowd present.

The awarding of prizes for the different exhibits was completed yesterday by the judges.

"Made in Wilmington."

The judges for the "Made in Wilmington" exhibits were Messrs. Milton Calder, J. W. Yates and F. W. Dick. The prizes were awarded as follows:

"Made in Wilmington"—First Delgado Mills; second, Farris Bakery; special mention, Carolina Metal Products Co., and Atlantic Paint & Varnish Works. The Tidewater Power Company has the most elaborate display but could not be classed as dealer, merchant or "Made in Wilmington."

Dealers—First, N. Jacobi Hardware Co.; second, W. B. Thorpe & Co.

Merchants—First, J. H. Rehder; second, C. W. Yates Company.

Miscellaneous.

The following miscellaneous prizes were awarded yesterday:

Meal—First, G. W. Corbett; second, J. L. Hall.

Pickled Fish—First, E. D. Harvey.

Fish Roe—First, Roy Fergus.

Artichoke—First, K. C. Sidbury; second, Mrs. W. L. Parsley.

Best Farm—First, "Bear Pen" farm in Bladen county; second, "Oaklyn" farm, Burgaw.

Best Floral Display—Will Rehder.

Best Exhibit of Corn—B. B. Trask.

Canned Vegetables.

Tomatoes—Mrs. E. I. Herring, first; Mrs. Geo. Trask, second.

Garden Peas—Mrs. P. Raspberry, first; Mrs. J. P. Herring, second.

Field Peas—Mrs. Charles Seitter, first; Mrs. J. G. Seitter, second.

Butter Beans—Mrs. Ed Hall, first; Mrs. J. T. Piver, second.

Snap Beans—Mrs. Charles Seitter, first; Mrs. Sandlin, second.

Corn—Mrs. E. I. Herring, first; Mrs. Sandlin, second.

Beets—Mrs. E. I. Herring, first; Mrs. Cowell, second.

Asparagus—Mrs. E. I. Herring, first.

VERDICT OF JURY IS FIRST DEGREE MURDER

Thomas Merrick, Colored, is Sentenced to be Electrocuted.

Notice of Appeal Filed by Attorneys for Defense—Father of Condemned Negro Youth Offers to Die in Place of Son.

A verdict of first degree murder was brought in yesterday morning by the jury in the case of Thomas Merrick, colored, who shot and killed Mr. L. B. Hudson at the plant of the Mint Cola Bottling Works in this city on August 31st, after having been out for 22 hours, and Judge F. A. Daniels sentenced the negro youth to die in the electric chair in the State penitentiary at Raleigh on February 10th. Notice of appeal was filed by the attorneys for the defendant.

The jury was given the case at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon and it was not until yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock that they reported that they had been able to agree on a verdict. All other cases had been disposed of in Superior Court for this term and following the sentencing of the young negro, Judge Daniels adjourned the session and returned to his home last night.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Daniels soon after the returning of the verdict. Merrick is only about 18 years old and at no time seemed to be at all concerned as to his fate. During the trial which took up the greater part of two days, William Merrick, his father, was constantly at his side. The father of the condemned man is a respected negro and has been butler at the home of Mrs. P. L. Bridgers for many years. Before sentence was passed the father begged the court to allow him to pay the death penalty instead of his son. It was an impressive demonstration of a father's love and Judge Daniels in passing sentence commended the devotion of the parent for his son.

The prosecution was represented by Solicitor Homer L. Lyon, f Whiteville, County Solicitor Geo. L. Peschau, and Dodolph Duffy, Esq., former solicitor, of Catherine Lake. The defendant was represented by William J. Bellamy and Burke H. Bridgers, Esqs.

Grand Jury Reports.

The grand jury completed its work yesterday and submitted its report to the court yesterday morning. Several recommendations were made, one of which is that "trusties" at the convict camp be kept in the prison at night. The report is as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 19, 1915.

"To His Honor, F. A. Daniels, Judge of Superior Court of New Hanover County, North Carolina.

"We, the grand jury, for November term Superior Court, beg to submit the following report:

"We have passed on 15 bills, found 14 true bills, and one not true bill.

"We visited the county institutions and report as follows:

"Convict Camp at Castle Haynes—We found this camp in good condition. Would recommend that a proper shelter be erected for the teams. We found them confined in an open enclosure with no protection from the cold and rain.

"Stockade or Work House—We found conditions here good, except the need of mattresses for some of the prisoners. In one room we found three (3) small white boys who were forced to sleep on springs with only a few empty sacks for bedding. These boys complained of being cold at night.

"County Home—Found everything here in good condition. Questioned some of the inmates and they said they were well pleased with their treatment.

"County Jail—In good condition. Would recommend that proper pens be made in the cell doors for the passage of food to the prisoners, as a protection to the keeper.

"County Court House—In good condition. Would suggest that the Commissioners provide a desk for the grand jury room so that the records may be safely kept while the jury is in session.

"County Roads—The roads having been inspected by the last grand jury, September term, we thought it unnecessary to incur the expense of a thorough examination. Those we passed over in making our visitations we found to be in good condition. It has been brought to our attention that the 'trusties' frequently abuse the privileges granted them. We, therefore, respectfully suggest that the authorities prevent these 'trusties' from leaving their prison at night.

"We beg to state that our attention also has been called to the fact that the public school for white children in Carolina Beach district has been discontinued because the parents would not compel their children to attend. We learn from the public school statistics, 1915, for New Hanover county that in Carolina Beach district there are 23 white children of school age.

"Respectfully submitted,

"W. J. TOOMER, Foreman.

"Attest:

"R. SIDBURY, Secretary."

MRS. RUTH ODOM DEAD

Respected Christian Woman Passed Away at Red Cross Sanitarium.

Mrs. Ruth Ella Odom, widow of the late Archie Odom, died Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the Red Cross Sanitarium. She was 55 years old and had been in failing health for several months. She was a devoted member of the Church of the Good Shepherd and had a wide circle of friends who will be grieved to learn of her death.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. L. M. Wilson, of Wilmington, and one son, Mr. J. W. Odom, of Morehead City.

The remains will be taken to Morehead City this morning and the funeral and interment will take place there this afternoon.

WHOLESALE SHOE FIRM SECURES NEW LOCATION

Sterchi-Bancroft Co. Lease Building on Front Street.

Mr. W. A. French Will Build Warehouse on North Second Street. Change Will be Effective October of Next Year.

An important business transaction was closed yesterday afternoon which will result in the removal of the wholesale shoe store of George R. French Sons from their present store, No. 108 North Front street, which has been leased from October 1st of next year for a period of five years by the Sterchi-Bancroft Company, well known furniture dealers. Mr. W. A. French yesterday purchased from Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Piner a lot on the west side of North Second street, 136 feet south of Grace, on which he will erect a large two-story brick building to be used as a warehouse by his firm.

The sale of the lot at No. 213 North Second street was made through the real estate firm of Mr. L. W. Moore and it is understood that the amount paid was in the neighborhood of $10,000. There is now located on the lot a small warehouse which will be removed. The plans for the new warehouse, which will cost about $15,000, have been made by Mr. B. H. Stephens and work will begin on the structure in early spring.

Sterchi-Bancroft Company now have their store in the Orton building on the west side of Front street, between Chestnut and Princess. Before moving into the building which has been leased from Mr. W. A. French, the structure will be remodeled, a new front put in and other improvements made. The building is four stories in height and will be sufficiently large to accommodate the growing business of this popular furniture store.

Mr. E. Bancroft, resident member of the firm, stated last night that it is his intention to conduct in the new location a furniture store that will be in keeping with the needs of the city and to have one of the most completely equipped stores of its kind in the State.

There are 13 of the Sterchi chain of furniture stores in the South, the leading one being in Knoxville, Tenn. These stores do an annual business of $3,000,000 a year and each store of the chain has the benefit of the low prices secured by buying in bulk. The motto of all these stores is "Everything from a teaspoon to a piano," and the Wilmington store will maintain this standard. Mr. Bancroft plans to make many improvements in his business with enlarged quarters and his firm will continue their progressive policy of efficient and prompt service combined with picking and selecting the best quality of goods.

Mr. French stated yesterday that his firm had been the pioneer in opening up the present section in the vicinity of the junction of Front and Princess streets as the most prominent business center of the city and realizing that for conducting a wholesale business that a less prominent location would serve as well, he had decided to move his location. He expressed confidence, however, that the section to which he will move will in time develop into a prominent business section of the city and feels that as the city grows and develops, residences in that section will give way to business houses just as has been the case on North Front street which is now lined with stores and office buildings.

A Pioneer Business.

The firm of George R. French Sons, which is the oldest wholesale shoe firm in the State and possibly of the entire South, was established in 1822 by Geo. R. French. At that time Wilmington was a small town situated on the right bank of the Cape Fear river and the business center was confined to about two blocks on Water street and the block on Market street from the river to Front street.

The streets were the native sand and Mr. French laid the first brick sidewalk (before his store on Market street) that was put down on that thoroughfare. He was a friend and advocate of all public improvements and was one of the original subscribers to the Wilmington & Raleigh Railroad Co., which was originally projected to run from Wilmington to Raleigh, but from failure to secure enough subscriptions from the latter place, the road was built from this city to Weldon. So enthusiastic was Mr. French as to the benefits that would accrue to the town from the road that he made a subscription of such an amount as to cripple his business for several years because of the withdrawal of capital.

Mr. French was also a friend of schools and church extension for the moral upbuilding of the community. He was one of the original organizers of a movement to secure a hospital for sick sailors and to care for contagious diseases and was the corresponding secretary of that organization which was afterwards merged with the present Seamen's Friend Society, of which he was corresponding secretary, trustee and president.

Wilmington was visited on several occasions by disastrous fires, burning out one side of Market street and then the other and up on Front street towards the railroad. Mr. French was an active fireman and did valiant service in the volunteer association.

He held a position as director of the Bank of Wilmington and was chosen president to wind up its affairs after it went into liquidation. He was an advocate of temperance and with others was active in the formation of societies to diminish the drink habit. He was active in every moral movement.

With the growth of the town year by year, his business was increased and he not only enjoyed a lucrative business at home and in the adjoining counties but reached out towards the center of the State where he sold goods at wholesale. In connection with his shoe business he had a manufacturing department where fine boots and shoes were made and also some coarser kinds.

Upon the breaking out of the War Between the States he sold his stock for equipping the troops and afterwards under contracts to the State until the difficulty of obtaining leather and workmen was such that he had to give up the business and he then turned his attention to the making of salt and such other trading as the times would permit.

At the close of the war he bought some goods brought to the town by some army sutlers and in 1866, the firm of George R. French Sons was formed by the association of his sons, George R., Jr., and W. A. French and the stock of goods was soon replenish-

MANY BABIES AT CORN SHOW

Nearly Two Hundred Entered in Show Yesterday—Big Crowd Present. Judges Award Prizes.

While all the different features of the Corn and Agricultural Show have met with enthusiastic praise, doubtless one of the most attractive and one which perhaps aroused the greatest interest was the Baby Show yesterday afternoon. There were hundreds of mothers present and some little difficulty was experienced in getting the babies arranged so that judges could make the awards of prizes.

The judges for the Baby Show were: Mrs. Bryant, Mr. Frank Mead and Dr. J. F. Robertson. There were five prizes awarded, as follows:

Under six months of age—Walter F. Busch, aged six months.

One to two years—Mary Burrows, Bolton, age 18 months.

Six to 12 months—Edward Watson Hall, aged eight and a half months.

Two to three years—Boys: Edward Bates Pleasants, age 27 months; Girls: Catherine Loughlin, age 33 months.

The following with reference to the Show was written by a member of the committee:

"About 175 babies were present at the Baby Show yesterday afternoon, and a finer lot of little ones were never before collected under any one roof in Wilmington.

"The judges, all new residents of Wilmington, had an arduous task, and the decisions were hard to make. A harder task never before was the lot of the ones called upon to honestly and fairly select the finest child physically out of so great a number of apparently perfect babies.

"Had the prizes been more numerous, they would have been freely distributed among the many beautiful, healthy and physically attractive specimens. In two cases the prizes were awarded to the babies from the country—Winter Park and Bolton.

"The committee in charge regrets the congestion at first, and that there was some delay in classifying the children. Though the time was announced for 3 o'clock, the crowds had arrived long before that hour. Hence some little confusion prevailed and some delay was caused in carrying out the plans for the show that otherwise could have been avoided.

"Fortunately, after the babies were classified according to ages, everything moved smoothly, though it was fatiguing to the mothers, which was the only cause for regret. The committee greatly appreciates and acknowledges with pleasure the generosity of Mr. George Honnet, from whom the prizes were purchased, but when delivered were marked 'With Compliments For Sorosis.'

DARING RAILWAY THIEF.

Depots at Castle Haynes and Rocky Point Entered—Negro in Car.

Evidently in quest of liquor but unsuccessful in a partial degree, a burglar on Thursday night entered the freight depots of the Atlantic Coast Line both at Rocky Point and Castle Haynes, according to report made to the police in this city yesterday morning by Railway Agent Jones, of the latter place.

As a coincidence, which may mean that the burglaries were committed by the same person, a freight crew reaching Wilmington yesterday morning reported that at Ashton, this side of Rocky Point, they discovered a negro in one of the cars of their train and when they accosted him, he fired several shots at them and fled. In the car out of which the negro escaped, it was found that several cases of goods had been broken open in the car and some of the goods had been transferred to sacks which the negro had dropped as he ran from the train crew.

At Castle Haynes entrance to the depot was gained through a window and out of the warehouse six or eight quarts of liquor in transit were stolen. At Rocky Point, after entering the depot, the burglar found that the "wet goods" were kept in a strong iron box and this was considerably battered but nothing was stolen from it.

The police and Special Agent Edmondson, of the A. C. L., are at work on the cases, but thus far there seems to be little clue to the marauder or marauders.

His Aunt Dead.

Friends of Mr. Dan Quinlivan and other members of the family in Wilmington will sympathize with them in the death of Mr. Quinlivan's aunt, Mrs. Michael Quinlivan, which occurred yesterday in New York, a telegram to this effect having been received yesterday. Mr. Michael Quinlivan is well known and highly esteemed in Wilmington where he has often visited his brothers, Mr. Thos. Quinlivan and the late Mr. Dan Quinlivan. It is likely that Mr. Dan Quinlivan, Jr., will leave today to attend the funeral of his aunt.

—Mr. H. C. McNair, a well known business man of Maxton, was in the city yesterday, registered at the Orton.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell.

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

ENTERTAINED IN HONOR OF AN APPROACHING BRIDE.

Miss Swanna Albright and Miss Neenah Woods entertained most delightfully Thursday evening in honor of Miss Lillian Woolard at the home of Miss Albright, No. 26 Carolina Court, the entertainment taking the form of a tin shower in recognition of the approaching marriage of the guest of honor, who on next Tuesday is to become the bride of Mr. Milton R. Pittman.

The shower was presented by Master Jack Albright drawing an express wagon and prettily dressed as a messenger. This was an altogether novel and attractive feature of the evening. Among the guests were Misses Lillian and Mabel Woolard, Janet and Louise McDougall, Eva Cole, Mary Eve and Laura Carpenter, Elizabeth Davis, Dorothy Applewhite, Ethel Holmes, Mrs. Harry Payne, Mrs. W. I. Holt and Mrs. W. H. Thompson, of Graham, N. C.

Attractive pictures of the bride-elect were given as souvenirs and during the evening a dainty salad course was served. The home was prettily decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums.

APPRECIATIVE SKETCH OF THE CHAIRMAN OF MUSIC

Mrs. J. D. Edwards, chairman of music department of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs, whose home is in Wilmington, is the subject of an appreciative sketch in this week's Greensboro Everything in which she is given high praise as being an exceptionally gifted musician. In connection with the sketch is printed a photographic likeness of Mrs. Edwards. The article is as follows:

"The North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs is fortunate in having at the head of its several departments exceptionally capable women—women whose professional work past, or present has been along the same or similar lines, and who, in carrying out the Federation programme, are simply doing the natural thing, the thing which appeals most strongly to their natures and which is easiest for them to execute.

"The chairman of Music, in the person of Mrs. J. D. Edwards, of Wilmington, is no exception to this rule, her reputation being well established as musician, teacher and musical composer. By reason of her talents she has been, despite her modesty, a conspicuous figure in music circles of her own city, and as author of two prize compositions presented at the Newbern convention, her fame soon spread abroad as one who would bring new honors to the State organization. Both as a singer and as a violinist Mrs. Edwards stands at the head of the list, and is fast becoming known as a composer and interpreter of good music. Though young in years she is old in musical training and experience, having given evidence of superior gifts at a very early age—finishing at the New England Conservatory of Music. Under her leadership the department will lose none of its inspiration and prestige, and the music clubs throughout the State are to be congratulated."

JR. O.U.A.M. THANKSGIVING

Annual Sermon to Councils Tomorrow Night Week—Daughters Invited.

Annual Thanksgiving service of Jeff Davis and George Washington councils, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held this year on tomorrow evening week, November 28, at the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, Sixth and Queen streets, at 7:30 p. m. The sermon will be by Rev. W. R. Noe, rector of the parish. The two councils are striving to make this service the best they have ever held and postal card invitations have been sent to all members, asking them to meet on the date mentioned at 6:30 p. m., at the council hall, for the purpose of marching in a body to the church. The Daughters of Liberty, the ladies' branch of the order, will join in the service with the Juniors and will join them at Sixth and Castle streets. Mr. J. T. Eagles is chairman of the Joint Committee on Arrangements, and Mrs. L. F. Congleton is secretary.

Newest Beauty Discovered for Movies

Margaret Gale.

Margaret Gale is the newest beauty discovered for the movies, and she has created something of a sensation. Lee Kugel, a prominent figure in the movie business in New York, found her photograph in a studio window. He asked for her at once, and she looked even better than her studio pictures.

"How much are you making now?" asked Kugel.

"Thirty dollars a week," she said.

"I'll give you $200 if you can act," said he.

Now he is glad he signed a contract with her.

YESTERDAY "SHELLFISH" DAY

The Lobster, Crab, Oyster and Clam Honored With National Celebration.

Though few people in these parts knew about it, yesterday was the day set apart by the National Association of Fisheries Commissioners as "Shellfish" day. A request through the press was made that every table in the land have either lobsters, oysters, clams, crabs or shrimp as the main dish. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, who is a member of the executive committee and ex-president of the National Association, sent out the following with reference to the use of seafoods:

"While the coastal states of the Union are more fortunate in having the different species of seafood right at hand, nevertheless, modern methods of preserving and packing shellfish enable the people of the interior of the country to join in the "Shellfish day" movement by partaking of their favorite shellfish on this day as well as those living in the seaboard states.

"The growing scarcity and advancing prices of animal food has called particular attention to the various seafoods of the country, both fin and shell, as never before and, together with the question of conservation and development of our natural resources, the problem of increasing the output of the coastal waters by advanced methods of aquaculture has been studied not alone by the government experts but by the different state commissioners whose members compose the National Association of Fisheries Commissioners.

"With the high cost of living, the scarcity of beef cattle and the increasing population to be combatted it is suggested that many of our natural resources are capable of a development which will supply a cheap yet wholesome food. Among these resources the fish and shellfish industries have yet to reach their maximum production as there is not a state on the Atlantic or Pacific seaboard or Gulf coast whose resources have been extended to the limit nor is it even possible today to estimate what they are capable of producing in shell fish.

"Time, education and legislation will change all this and the shellfish champions believe and they point out that the lobster, crab, clam, shrimp and oyster are food products no longer to be considered as luxuries. It has been proven that oysters are cheaper than beef and their consumption is increasing year by year."

MR. OSCAR LAWRENCE IS ACQUITTED OF CHARGE

Recorder Empie Found No Grounds for Probable Cause in Charge of Assault.

Recorder Brooke G. Empie found yesterday after hearing the evidence in the case against Mr. Oscar Lawrence, janitor at the Masonic Temple, charged with criminal assault on Daisy Robbins, the eight-year-old daughter of Mrs. Alice Robbins, that there was no ground for probable cause and dismissed the case. Mr. Lawrence was arrested some days ago on the charge and gave bond for his appearance for trial which was delayed on account of the girl being in the hospital for treatment. Both the girl and her mother were in court yesterday.

Charlie Cooper, colored, who is alleged to have broken into the house of a negro woman and with stealing some clothes from another, was given a hearing in both cases. Probable cause was found on a charge of housebreaking and his bond was named in this case as being $200 while in a case against him for burglary his bond was fixed at $500, making the total $700. He went to jail to await trial at the next term of Superior Court. Cooper was arrested by the police.

Arthur McNeal, colored, who was arrested by Policeman Thompson Thursday night for carrying a box from the premises of Einstein Bros., was required to pay the costs.

MAXIM "SUPPOSES" AN INVASION OF AMERICA

"Army Would Make About a Good Day's Killing."

Says America's Only Safety From War is Navy Big Enough to Match Any in the World and Army of Vast Proportions.

Kansas City, Nov. 19.—Hudson Maxim, inventor of many implements of war, addressing the Kansas City Commercial Club at its annual dinner here tonight, asserted that the only way America could be saved from war would be to have a navy big and powerful enough to stand successfully against any other navy in the world and "an army big enough to save the country from the horrors of defeat and humiliation, even should our navy be destroyed."

"Our little, poorly equipped army would not be able to offer resistance enough to make a ripple in the line of the enemy's advance," Mr. Maxim said. "Our army would make just about one good day's killing.

"Suppose the enemy should land at Boston or New York or at any of the ports between. Nothing under heaven we could do would prevent the invaders from capturing the entire country between the Alleghanies and the sea within two weeks." Mr. Maxim's suppositional invasion was by a first-class European power at the conclusion of the present conflict.

"Any one of the great warring nations, if victorious," he said, "would have available several million war-tried veterans for a trial at arms with us, and should that foreign nation be either England or Germany, it would have a navy far superior to our own, and, consequently could not be opposed by our navy. Hence that nation would be able to land upon our shores its legions of trained fighters, equipped with all the paraphernalia and enginery of war as fast as they could be brought overseas."

A quarter of a million men, Mr. Maxim said, could be landed within a month and reinforcements of that number brought over every 30 days thereafter, if needed. After they had captured that area, the inventor continued, for America, "there would be but one way out:

"We should have to ransom ourselves with gold and the enemy would throw his sword into the scales as did Brennus to make good weight. Our captors would take possession of our homes and of our women, for to every household would be detailed a certain number of officers or privates, to be fed and entertained. You would no longer be masters of your own households, but the officers in charge would be masters of ceremonies."

NOT "PEACE AT any PRICE."

Representative Kitchin Favors Submarines, Mines, Etc.

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 18. — Congressman Claude Kitchin is not for peace at any price. He believes that the United States is now "ready" to fight any possible foe on the high seas save Great Britain. He is expected to make a statement within the next few days that will, he believes, put him right in the minds of people who misunderstand him.

Intimate friends of the Democratic leader say that at a naval hearing less than a year ago, the opinions of the President and secretary of the navy, coincident, and of naval board, were compared. At that time the President and Mr. Daniels, it is understood, moved for the "regular, orderly rate of increase." Members of the naval board, experts of high rank, favored a big increase, but admitted under question that navy for navy, ship for ship, gun for gun and personnel for personnel, the United States navy was superior to that of Germany or Japan. The friends of the Scotland Neck statesman broadly intimate that the navy year book is not compiled to be easily understood by laymen, that pains are being taken to misinform the President on national sentiment, which Mr. Kitchin says is overwhelmingly against the proposed enormous naval increase, and that the public never got the news about the hearing above referred to, because newspaper men present were swayed by the preparedness propaganda.

ERROR IN TOBACCO FIGURES

Commissioner Graham Secures Admission From U. S. Department.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 19.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham has obtained from the crop statistics department of the United States Department of Agriculture an admission that the government figures as to North Carolina farm products have an error of 21 million pounds in the tobacco crop, the report being short that much of the actual production, thus verifying the figures of the State Department as to the tobacco crop. This being the case, the commissioner believes that North Carolina will be advanced from thirteenth in rank among the states as to agricultural products to eleventh and possibly to tenth. He insists that no state in the Union is coming to the front in agricultural matters as rapidly as this State.

THEATRICAL

Of course Charlie Chaplin holds the center of the stage at the Grand today—he can easily dominate any programme—but there is another great feature drama "The Old Sin," a thrilling melodrama starring June Keith, John Lorenz, and Hugh Thompson in the leading roles. It's a plot of much strength, and is a drama of modern day life written by Tipsop Stack, skilfully handled and earnestly acted by an all-star cast.

The story of "The Old Sin" tells of a young lawyer who marries a chorus girl without inquiring into her past. Five years later, when he is district attorney, the inevitable villain turns up in the person of a wealthy traction magnate whom the district attorney is about to prosecute. The attorney, finding that the magnate is the man in his wife's past, shoots him, but does not kill. The wife at the same time is saved from suicide by her maid. The magnate relents, however, and husband and wife are re-united. It's a thrilling tale, well told, in three pretty acts of photoplay.

Charlie Chaplin—oh, yes—in a great single-real Keystone, "The Masqueraders," directed by the great Mack Sennett—that's enough to say about Charlie.

"Island of Regeneration"—Royal.

It is indeed an offering that will draw large crowds at the Royal today, in the presen.. on of that magnificent six-act photoplay spectacle, "The Island of Regeneration." And there was Townsend Brady's greatest novel, which has been filmed by Vitagraph, starring Edith Storey and Antonio Moreno, supported by an all-star cast. Cyrus Townsend Brady never wrote a more absorbing book than "The "Island of Regeneration." And there was never a story written by anyone that offered greater possibilities for the film drama.

Imagine—a beautiful girl running away from the unwelcome attentions of the owner of the yacht on which she was a guest—cast upon a tropical island in the Southern Pacific; the sole inhabitant, a man who had lived alone there since early childhood. Imagine a master hand as Cyrus Townsend Brady.

And think of this story Vitagraphed. Imagine how they would handle the fire at sea, the earthquake, the attempted rescue, the charming love scene on the tropical isle, the girl bathing in the sequestered pond, the arrival of the United States cruiser, the return to civilization.

And Edith Storey, known and beloved by millions of film-fans, playing the leading role, opposite talented Antonio Moreno—it's a treat well worth your while today!

Big Bill at Bijou.

In Latin American settings of tropical beauty and with a cast superbly costumed, "The Man from Argentine," a Powers two-reel drama featuring Sidney Ayres and Doris Pawn features today's big week-end bill at the Bijou. Supporting Mr. Ayres and Miss Pawn are Carmen Phillips, Walter Belasco and L. M. Wells.

This is undoubtedly the biggest drama in which this great quartette of stars have appeared in many months, and the Moving Picture World is high in its praise. It is a feature that tells a stirring story, a beautiful drama of the heart, beautifully staged and ably acted by an exceedingly clever company. In the South American scenes the atmosphere is remarkably realistic, and in the Northern scenes the settings are faithful and interesting. Exiled for a supposed treasonable offense the "Man from Argentine" finds happiness and his heart's desire in an alien city. This great picture will carry any audience with it to its effective climax and provide them with most enjoyable amusement.

"The Frame-Up on Dad," is a great Nestor comedy in which the pretty Billie Rhodes dons masculine attire, and is more bewitching than ever. She is supported by Ray Gallagher in this great comedy.

Then the "Animated Weekly" contains more than 30 great events pictured as they occurred.

NO COMMENT AT WHITE HOUSE

Agreed There is No Possibility of Diplomatic Question Arising.

Washington, Nov. 19.—While official circles here were interested in the news from Paris that the dressmakers' syndicate had blacklisted a New York deal ersaid to have been commissioned to buy gowns for Mrs. Galt, resident Wilson's fiancee, no comment was forthcoming. The White House took no notice of the reports. It was generally agreed by those who discussed the matter that there was no possibility of a diplomatic question being raised.

JUDGE HOUGH UPHOLDS SIMON IN SUIT OF WIRELESS COMPANY

Government Has Right to Use Patented Devices Temporarily.

New York, Nov. 19.—Federal Judge Hough has held that the government has a right to make temporary use of any device on which it has granted a patent, and that the patentee cannot secure an injunction. The decision was given in a suit of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America for an injunction against Emil J. Simon, of New York. Simon asserted that whatever infringements he had committed had occurred while he was constructing radio apparatus for the United States government under a contract with the Navy Department.

A High Art Dress Clothes Story

GIVING PUBLICITY TO THE HIGH ART FULL DRESS AND TUXEDO SUITS

WHEN you don your evening clothes, the moment arrives when of all times you are on "dress parade."

Evening-wear style may not be arbitrated—it is either all right or all wrong. We think a great deal of "High Art" STYLE CLOTHES. We think a great deal more of our customers.

When we bought dress clothes for you we kept a weather-eye on the market and this we learned—

Strouse & Brothers of Baltimore patterned their clothes after prevailing London fashions. We learned that the man dressed in "High Art" DRESS CLOTHES was correctly clad to the last button.

"High Art" Full Dress Suits bear a distinction that is unmistakable. Finest fabrics and the utmost in trimming, plus designing that is approached by no other formal wear apparel, make these clothes leaders in their line.

The "High Art" TUXEDO is graceful—its front is soft-rolling and it is just shapely enough to accentuate the waist line.

The "High Art" Fox Trot Tuxedo is for the man who dances—it is made to combine indisputable style with comfort.

The genius that designed these clothes would be a prohibitive expense in any but so large an institution as that of the "High Art" STYLE CLOTHES makers.

Call and see these clothes—they're marked

The PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING

Nation's Chief Executive the Proud Grandfather of Two Lusty Youngsters, About to Acquire One of the Capital's Most Beautifuland Cultivated Women As a Wife.

WHEN President Wilson issued his Thanksgiving Day Proclamation several weeks ago it is extremely doubtful if there were any among the readers of this official document who had more to be thankful for than the writer of the same. Blessings have been showered upon the President in the closing year of his four-year term, and while the nation, generally, is devoutly thankful that it has been blessed with so strong a hand on the helm of the ship of state in these troublous times, yet Mr. Wilson, personally, has so much to be grateful for, there is little wonder that a more exultant note did not find its way into the annual message setting forth the last Thursday in November as a day of general thanksgiving.

No President of the United States since George Washington has been confronted with so many staggering problems as have arisen in the administrative path of Woodrow Wilson. Elected upon a platform that committed him to a legislative programme that was for a time regarded as little short of revolutionary, he battled singlehanded and alone until he whipped a hostile Congress into line and forced it to live up to the pledges the Democratic party had made to a credulous constituency.

Few there were who, for a moment, believed that "The Schoolmaster" could bring about a fruition of these promises. A tariff had to be amended; a new and sweeping reform in the currency system effected; a definite and radical foreign policy instituted; hungry politicians kept in the background and those who had visions of feasting at the Federal pie counter relegated to the party's scrap heap, to say nothing of the President being forced to assume the burdens that rightfully belonged to his Cabinet.

Mexico A Perpetual Thorn.

That perpetual revolution in Mexico assumed such proportions in the early stages of the Wilson administration as to necessitate the sending of a battle fleet and United States Marines to Vera Cruz and the border. The jingoes cried loud and blatantly for "armed interference" and jeered the "watchful waiting" policy of a man who stolidly declined to see this nation plunged into a long-drawn-out and bloody war with guerilla bands that roamed the hills and plains of the sister republic. The worst in that imbroglio is over and so far we have escaped with the loss of a few lives, U. S. Marines killed by Mexican snipers at Vera Cruz, and a few soldiers shot down on the border by Mexican bandits. Better by far as it is than the wholesale slaughter that necessarily would have followed a war with Mexico.

The European Maelstrom.

Sixteen months ago Europe was plunged into the most far-reaching and bloodiest war the world ever saw. From the outset it did not seem possible that this nation could escape becoming involved in the general conflict. Trap after trap was set and made ready to spring whereby the United States could not escape entering the hostilities without bringing dishonor and ignominy upon her people. At times the situation was so tense that there did not seem to be one chance in a million of this country escaping a declaration of war, or a sudden break in diplomatic relations with one or more of the belligerents, to say the least.

Communications that passed between this country and Germany will go down in history as masterpieces of diplomatic diction and these were penned by the President. After an exchange of several such documents Germany descended from the high-handed course she had assumed and each and every point at issue—and insisted upon in no uncertain terms by the President—was conceded and the United States today is no nearer the threshold of war than she was when the conflagration started.

Many there were who were deeply shocked to pick up their newspapers a few months ago to see staring at them in glaring type the announcement of the resignation of Mr. William J. Bryan from the President's Cabinet. Mr. Bryan has conscientious scruples as to our foreign policies when pitted against his well-known attitude toward peace at any price and therefore he adopted the only course open to him and that the relinquishment of a post he could not conscientiously hold. The President promptly accepted his Premier's resignation and thereby paved the way for the appointment of a man in every way fitted to administer the delicate affairs of state he long had intimate knowledge of.

The smoothness and celerity with which the matters of state have been handled since Mr. Robert Lansing entered the Cabinet amply prove how completely in accord he and the President are. No sooner had Mr. Lansing taken hold of his office than Mr. Wilson heeded the lure of New Hampshire's hills and went away for a much needed and long-deferred vacation, the first he had had since the war started. Mr. Wilson will never cease to bless the day that Robert Lansing entered his official family and so capably and manfully shouldered a portion of the burden that had all but crushed the President the several months preceding.

Wins A Beautiful Bride.

But there is a more personal and intimate side to the President's reasons for offering such devout thanks this year—primarily his approaching marriage. All the world loves a lover and even in this workaday era when men and women are toiling like beavers to accumulate a competency while the industrial and business affairs of the country are at high tide, all can take time to read every detail connected with this romance.

The marriage of President Wilson and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt is in every way an ideal match. Both are descendants of proud old Southern families that have been identified with the really big things of that section of the country since Colonial times. Both are talented and cultivated and none who knows Mrs. Galt can question for a second her fitness for the high position in society and official circles that her marriage to the President will elevate her. As the First Lady in the Land Mrs. Galt will make a charming and beautiful hostess at all White House functions and the nation, generally, rejoices with the President at his good fortune and happiness.

While Mrs. Galt is comparatively new to the "Official Set" in Washington, nevertheless her residence of so many years at the Capital has enabled her to move in a circle there that has always held itself aloof from the constantly shifting coteries that come and go with each administration. That old set is by far the most exclusive in Washington and is more closely akin to a similarly reserved and exclusive coterie which centers about Georgetown and has always been separate and apart from Washington's officialdom.

A Proud Grandfather.

Mr. Wilson is now the proud possessor of two grandchildren. The first of these was born to his second daughter, Jessie, who is the wife of Francis B. Sayre, a talented and cultivated man she met while engaged in her pet hobby of settlement work. Mr. Sayre is now attached to one of the big universities, having entered a field to which his talents peculiarly fit him.

This baby bears the proud name of Francis Woodrow Sayre, and those who have been granted peeps into the home life of the White House say that this youngster wields far more influence over his grandfather than all the senators and congressmen put together.

The second grandchild followed the marriage of Miss Eleanor Wilson, the President's youngest daughter, to Mr. William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, and in consequence, a member of the "Official Family." A daughter was born to this union and the little girl was named for her grandmother, Mrs. McAdoo's late mother. Those who have seen the President with this little mite coddled in his arms can well appreciate what a blessing she and her little cousin, Francis Woodrow Sayre, have been to their grandfather in times so fraught with tense anxiety and nerve-racking work.

Now that the President has fallen a victim to the shafts of Dan Cupid it is impossible to even hazard a guess as to just how he will spend his Thanksgiving Day. That the greater part of the day will be passed at the side of his beautiful fiancee none doubts. As both are devotees of outdoor life and sports in general, it is reasonable to suppose that, weather permitting, automobiling and golf will each come in for their share of attention. President Wilson has certain set and old-fashioned views a to the observaance of fixed holidays and it is not to be supposed he will deviate from his accustomed course on this Thanksgiving Day. Doubtless there will be a family gathering at the White House and Mrs. Galt in all probability will be among those present.

His Red-Letter Day.

But Thanksgiving Day will go down in history as a red-letter day in President Wilson's life, for, as I said before, he has everything to look forward to in life that really makes life worth while. His popularity as the Nation's Chief Executive is at high tide, even those who are not in accord with him politically admitting that the really big and perplexing and delicate problems that have cropped up in his administration have been handled in a masterly and statesman-like manner. Some profess that he has made serious blunders, but when they come to analyze these mistakes they find their arguments easily answered and disposed of by those who put aside party lines and review his career on purely broad and national lines.

But none can gainsay that the President, whose rather lonely and secluded life since he entered the White House has struck a sympathetic chord in the hearts of his many friends, is now entering upon a new era and that he has many real blessings for which to thank his Creator next Thursday, the day he officially set aside for such expressions of gratitude.

Though On the High Seas Or In Foreign Ports, the Officers and Men of Our Navy Observe the Great National Day -- Elaborate Preparations On Every Vessel To Celebrate the Occasion.

BY CAROLYN CROSS.

THANKSGIVING DAY in the navy isn't what it used to be! But neither officer nor enlisted man states the fact with reminiscent sadness of tone. For many years ago, and many years less than that and, indeed, until very recent years, the Plymouth Rock anniversary was a day anticipated for months ahead because it would bring turkey and "trimmings" to every man aboard ship in the navy. But now—well, the sailormen are not any less patriotic, only they have such improved food conditions that a holiday has lost some of its desirabilities, at least from a culinary standpoint.

In every other respect Thanksgiving Day is just as longingly anticipated, for greater freedom is allowed the men and events, unheard of in the "old days," enliven the ship during the forenoon and after dinner and tea—or tiffen.

Whenever it is possible men are permitted to go home for Thanksgiving and of course their "Day" becomes an individual holiday, but the majority simply go ashore for a jollification, a theatre or a football game—if the fleet is in any home port—or for whatever happens to be provided by "the natives" of a foreign port at that time.

Of course the elaborateness of the day's exercises depends upon the talent of the crew and the size of the ship. Athletic rivalry is often intense among various vessels of the fleet, and when one possesses an especially clever boxer, or fox trotter, or pie eater, or singer, the others are sure to learn it—there is no hiding of lights under bushels at such times—and his ability lends added lustre to the program.

Turkey for Hundreds.

Prior to any such exhibitions, however, comes the feast of the day. And preparing it is certainly an Augean task! Aboard the flagship Wyoming there are about 1,200 men; think how much turkey they can eat! Imagine making mince pies for as many men as one sees in the bleachers at a baseball game on a day when the home team has been "going good!"

Problems in arithmetic are necessary in order to determine the quantity of rations served. If twelve hundred men each consume a generous "helping" of mashed potatoes and then ask for more (and there is no restriction as to a man's appetite) how many potatoes would a cook have to—well anybody can see that it is quite a problem.

And always, everywhere, in every port, latitude and longitude and in the face of almost insurmountable difficulty of transportation, there is TURKEY. Hamlet minus the principal role would be a mere incident compared to a navy dinner without "the noble bird."

The busy housewife, ordering and directing the proper browning of her own family turkey, just ought to glimpse the rows of huge ovens and grosses and grosses—if such pluralizing be permissible—of those battleship birds!

The combined aroma of them, arising from an entire fleet, must make a whole section of the Atlantic ocean smell like Thanksgiving Day.

Cranberry molds, set along in rows, resemble ranges of hills in miniature and the preparing and sorting of the various accessories would give any but a trained strategist a mild case of delirium. On Thanksgiving Day the tables for even the lowliest enlisted men are made attractive and their contents destroy at one fell swoop that long-believed myth about the extraordinary difference between the holiday fare and that served to the officers' mess.

Turkey, fresh vegetables, olives, pickles, mince pie, fruit, coffee and so on constitute the meal.

Contests on Deck.

To enliven matters some of the men take their dessert on deck and indulge in fearful and awe inspiring pie-eating contests; the winner getting a prize and the also-rans feeling that they have not lost anyway. Then there are the deck or gymnasium sports, including potato races, the already mentioned boxing bouts, wrestling matches, bag races, tugs of war and—when possible—boat crew races, when championships for the year and the fleet are often determined.

Since the "new dances" came into vogue the tango and one-step and variations of all the standards are indulged in by the men, who accomplish feminine roles by merely tying handkerchiefs around their arms, and there are the inevitable choruses and solos—for every battleship contains some vocalists who might have made opera singers or, at least, extra men in musical comedies.

There is a band aboard every man of war and music is not just a holiday feature. The men, however rarely sing of home when Thanksgiving Day is being spent in foreign ports, as that would induce longing and discontent, and the day must be one of genuine, as well as official, good cheer. Proper religious services are included in every such celebration and the chaplains take no small part in the general celebration.

Supplies for the Vessels.

Paymaster-General Samuel McGowan is the individual who has so revolutionized transportation and "bids" and such things that every man of every vessel can eat fresh, instead of canned, vegetables with his turkey and have his turkey, too, without any attendant howls of disapproval from an economical Congress.

In former years one could gauge the distance of the fleet from base by the bill of fare of the mess tables—each succeeding week reducing the quantity of fresh meats and green stuff. Now, however, there are refrigerator boats, which stalk the war ships and replenish their stores before the latter are reduced to an uncomfortable scantiness.

Perhaps one reason why Paymaster General McGowan is so keenly interested in the welfare of the men is because, unlike most holders of the position of Paymaster-General, he was not appointed to it direct from civil life, but advanced after years of serving on various war ships and cruising about the world, spending each Thanksgiving in a different port or latitude.

Recalls Odd Thanksgivings.

In reminiscing of Thanksgivings he began, like Alice in Wonderland, "at the beginning," recalling the first one spent in the navy.

"We did not enthuse especially over the substantial portion of the menu that day," he said whimsically, "because we had enjoyed (?) turkey three time a day for many weeks—had it because there was nothing else to eat—and would much rather have partaken of a juicy beefsteak.

"The fleet was near the port of Tarsus—that same Tarsus to which Saint Paul alluded as 'no mean city'—but it must have changed mightily since then. Certainly, it did not impress me as any place to spend Thanksgiving.

"However, I went up in the interior and called on the Vali, or Governor, drank many cups of Turkish coffee and tried to chat with my host. But as my Arabic was just about as good as his English we did not have a very enlightening conversation. I remember vividly how very homesick I was! At night I came back to the ship and we had a big Thanksgiving dinner with everybody trying to be wonderfully enthusiastic and toasting 'sweethearts and wives' (of which I had, and have, neither) and carefully avoided all mention of home.

"Another Thanksgiving, which I spent under entirely different conditions, comes to mind because it was then that I learned to eat pumpkin pie. You know down where I come from"—Admiral McGowan is a son of Dixie-land with a most pronounced Southern accent—"we never went in very much for eating pumpkins: thought them better for feeding to hogs than to humans. But that Thanksgiving found me attached to the Wolverine, later the Michigan, at her station port, Erie, Pennsylvania. Incidentally, I was one of the few officers connected with her around that time who did not marry Erie girls—fifty-six naval officers selecting their life companions from that section. But to return to our—pumpkins:

"I never saw so many of them—pumpkins—in my life. And the pies into which they were made were delicious. In fact they made such an impression upon me that I even wanted pumpkin pie for breakfast, like a regulation dyed-in-the-wool Yankee, and had trouble ever afterwards training club chefs to serve it with my morning meal.

His Least Pleasant One.

"Perhaps, the least pleasant Thanksgiving I can remember," he resumed when the interviewer, like Oliver Twist clambered for "more," "was in Manilla in 1903. I passed the day wearing a white uniform, suffering with the intense heat and dodging cholera microbes during target practice there."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

COTTON PRICES IRREGULAR

Market Very Quiet, the Geenral List Closing Steady Net Two Points Up to Three Points Down.

New York, Nov. 19.—The cotton market was very quiet today and fluctuations were irregular, January contracts ranging from 11.82 to 11.72, closing at the lowest. The general list closed steady net two points higher to three points lower. Relatively firm cables and unfavorable eastern belt weather seemed to be responsible for the opening advance of 6 to 8 points and active months sold 8 to 11 points net higher during the early trading with December touching 11.65, March 12.10 and May 12.26.

The demand was supplied by Liverpool selling or realizing and prices soon turned easier. After reactions of 5 to 6 points the market rallied to nearly the best point of the morning as renewed covering but there was some scattered eastern belt hedge selling, and prices weakened again in the later trading. Prices reached the lowest point later in the afternoon with December selling at 11.55, March to 11.97 and May at 12.13.

The bulk of the day's business was attributed to a transfer of interest by both Liverpool and local spot houses from January to later deliveries. This demand for January was supplied by scattering liquidation by parties who appeared to be replacing replacing by purchases of later months and led to some reduction in the late month premiums. Otherwise trading was supposed to be largely in the way of evening up accounts for over the week-end and the ginning report on Monday.

The Census Bureau statement that the world's consumption of cotton for the year ended with last July was 19,761,000 compared with earlier estimates of 17,076,000 bales seemed to be attracting some bullish attention and May have been a factor on the early advance. Closed steady.

WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Less Activity With More Irregular Fluctuations—Market Steadier Towards Week-End.

New York, Nov. 19.—The cotton market activity has been less during the past week with fluctuations irregular. Reports of killing temperatures in the belt and bullish view of Saturday's consumption figures were followed by a spurt of buying which carried January up to 11.95 Monday, but it was evidently considered rather late for frost to materially influence sentiment and reactions of 30 or 35 points followed. Private crop estimates of 12,000,000 bales or over failed to inspire aggressive selling, however, and the market showed it was steadier toward the week-end in sympathy with Southern spot markets.

Purchases of about 35,000 bales attributed to Russian interests helped check the decline during the middle of the week, while the firmer sterling exchange and diminishing stocks at Liverpool have tended to color productions of improved spot demand.

A good part of the week's business has been attributed to a transfer of Liverpool and local spot house interest from near to late months, or to the evening-up of accounts for over the census ginning figures, expected Monday. Private returns were said to indicate a ginning of about 8,730,000 bales to November 14, there figures being considered by some of the local statisticians as closely in line with 1910 when the amount ginned to November 14 was 8,780,000 and for the first November period, 1,434,480 bales. Difference of opinion remained in evidence as to the probable showing of the government's crop estimate on December 10, however, and there was a feeling around the ring that sentiment in that respect might be influence by Monday's official ginning figures.

STOCK MARKET "GONE STALE"

Extreme Inertia Yesterday Overtook Trading—New Conditions Needed to Give Fresh Energy.

New York, Nov. 19.—For the extreme inertia which overtook today's trading in stocks no explanation was vouchsafed other than that the market "had gone stale." This was only another way of saying that professional as well as public interest had become surfeited for a time and that new conditions or developments were needed to impart fresh energy. Total dealings were the smallest of any full session in about two months.

News of the day was mostly constructive or favorable, ranging from additional encouraging trade advices to huge gains in bank clearings and another advance in demand sterling to the highest rates attained since the early part of October. Francs also hardened perceptibly and the international monetary situation as a whole was materially strengthened by the completion of all details connected with the new supplementary credits.

Price changes at the opening were more irregular than usual, although railway shares were again in fair demand at moderate gains. Other issues denoted heaviness, war shares and coppers, as well as United States Steel, being under pressure, which was increased later. Temporary improvement was noted at midday, mainly as a result of a spirited rise in General Motors which rose four points to 435, a new record, while Texas Company gained 13 at 194, to the accompaniment f advance in the price of its products.

In the afternoon values fell away gradually, the railway list yielding all its advantage while specialties and coppers receded to levels materially under yesterday's close. Bethlehem Steel closed at 486, a net gain of one point.

General Motors declined to 421, a net loss of 10, while Studebaker and Baldwin Locomotive were amng the other weak war stocks.

On the known movement of local cash, tomorrow's bank statement is expected to show a cash gain of $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, with the loan item in doubt.

Bonds were firm on light trading. Total sales, par value, $4,435,000. United States registered 2s were up 1-8c on call.

WHEAT PRICES LOWER.

Shipments to Mediterranean Ports Threatened by the War.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—War difficulties which threatened a virtual stop to shipments for Mediterranean ports resulted today in lowering the wheat market here. Prices, although steady at the close, were 1-2 to 5-8 to 7-8 to 3-4c down, with December at 1.04 3-4, and May 1.06 5-8. Corn showed a gain of 1 1-8 to 1 1-4, and oats offered 3-8 to 5-8. Provisions finished unchanged the 30 cents higher.

Grain and provisions closed:

Wheat—December 1.04 3-4; May 1.06 5-8

Corn—December 62 5-8; May 66 1-4.

Oats—December 39 1-4; May 41 1-8.

Pork—January 16.87; May 16.85.

Lard—January 9.20; May 9.40.

Ribs—January 9.20; May 9.40.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

Further Improvement in Business and Industrial Conditions.

New York, Nov. 19.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Further progress in trade accompanies,' greater industrial activity, higher prices, better collections, increased demand for money, record bank deposits, sharp reduction in unemployment, heavier payrolls, a big movement of grain, and lower temperatures over a wide area which latter has given snap to retail trade in season-wearing apparel. Rain has helped winter wheat and cold weather far South has put a period to cotton growth.

"Final purveyors, short of goods as they are, and feeling certain of sustained growth in business, are buying freely from wholesale houses as well as from jobbers.

"While ordering for future delivery is not neglected, the necessity of getting goods for near future use is very marked and in some sections of the country heavyweight fabrics are positively scarce.

"Holiday trade is proceeding on a satisfactory basis.

"Weekly bank clearings $4,948,842,000."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Selling Pressure on the Market Causes Sag in Prices at Close.

New Orleans, Nov. 19.—The cotton market held steady at a small advance today until a sag near the close pared down the gain. Last prices were unchanged to one point down compared with yesterday's close. Selling pressure developed late in the session following the posting of unchanged spot quotations.

The market made an opening advance of 8 to 9 points on good cables and the storm weather in the eastern belt. With trading months 8 to 10 points higher, scalping longs took profits and the noon market was up 5 to 7 points. In the forenoon selling increased.

The export movement for the week was small and caused unfavorable comment. Total shipments were 122,755 bales, against 174,418 same week last year, and 834,164 this week two years ago.

Close steady. Closing bids: December 11.42; January 11.60; March 11.87; May 12.05; July 12.17.

Spot cotton firm, unchanged; sales on the spot 1,530 bales; to arrive 1,350 bales; middling 11.38.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Hogs, firm, unchanged to 5c higher; bulk 6.25 to 6.65; light 5.80 to 6.70; mixed 5.95 to 6.85; heavy 6.10 to 6.90; rough 6.10 to 6.30; pigs 4.00 to 5.80.

Cattle—Weak; native beef steers 5.90 to 10.20; western steers 6.35 to 8.45; cows and heifers 2.75 to 8.20; calves 6.00 to 9.75.

Sheep—Firm; wethers 5.70 to 6.25; ewes 3.75 to 5.50; lambs 6.50 to 9.00.

THE FINANCIAL MARKET.

REFUSE TO MAKE MRS. GALT'S WEDDING GOWN

Dressmakers of Paris Blacklist New York Dealer.

Because, it is Claimed, the Proprietor of Commission House is Naturalized German—Would Present Gown Complimentary.

Paris, November 19.—The Paris Dressmakers' Association today officially decided that no member should deliver dresses, said to be for Mrs. Norman Galt, to a certain house in America whose proprietor is a German naturalized in the United States. It was stated, however, that every member of the syndicate "would be proud to be honored with a commission to make a gown for President Wilson's fiancee, and would be most happy if permitted to present it with its compliments."

Charles Kurzman, of New York, is said to be the man commissioned to buy gowns for Mrs. Galt. The newspaper, L'Ouevre, says Kurzman has threatened to raise diplomatic questions because of the modiste's refusal to accept orders from him.

The dressmakers' meeting today was presided over by Paul Poirot, its president. It was explained that some time ago it was found that a large number of dress importers in New York and elsewhere were of the Teutonic race; that the association, as a matter of principle, decided to refuse to sell to two of the houses, whose names were drawn by lot, and that one of these names was that of persons ordering gowns for Mrs. Galt.

A Paris dispatch early this month said Charles Kurzman, of New York, was there to select gowns for the wedding of President Wilson and Mrs. Galt. He was quoted as saying that while it "would be indiscreet to talk about clothes ordered by the Wilson family before obtaining permission from the White House" he felt that "Washington can look forward to a brilliant social season after the wedding."

had taken refuge before the storm reached its maximum.

RESTORING COMMUNICATION

No Heavy Property Damage Reported in Southern States.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 19.—Wire communication with points in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida which was seriously interrupted by the storm late yesterday gradually was being restored today. No heavy property damage was reported. Advices from Brunswick said an effort would be made tomorrow to float the bark Killens, which was driven aground there yesterday. Other shipping damage, as far as known, was confined to small craft.

STORM DOES DAMAGE.

Plays Havoc With Wire Communication at Newport News, Va.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 19.—A terrific northwest gale this afternoon and tonight played havoc with telegraph and telephone communication from this city, damaged scores of small craft on Chesapeake Bay and Hampton Roads and caused larger craft to seek shelter whenever practicable. Estimates place the damage anywhere from hundreds to thousands of dollars. Ferry boats from here to nearby cities had great difficulty making their runs and all are behind time. Small piers and breakwaters have been practically demolished in some instances by the force of the wind and waves.

SINK BRITISH WARSHIPS

German Submarines Destroy Two Gunboats and Auxiliary Cruiser.

Berlin, (via London), Nov. 19.—Two British gunboats and an auxiliary cruiser have been sunk in the Mediterranean on the north coast of Africa by German submaines. Official announcement to this effect was made by the admiralty today. The statement follows:

"A submarine on November 6, in Sollum harbor, destroyed by gunfire two Anglo-Egyptian gunboats, the Prince Abbas and the Abdul Menem, each of which was armed with two guns. The same submarine silenced with its fire an armed British merchant steamer and captured its gun.

"One of our submarines on November 5 on the North African coast sank by a torpedo the British auxiliary cruiser Tara."

No British vessel Para is mentioned in naval records. The cruiser referred to is evidently the small craft Tara.

An official British report of November 8 said the Tara, an armed boarding steamer, had been sunk in the Mediterranean by a German submarine and that 34 men were missing.

ATTACK MILITARY PLANTS

Austrian Aeroplanes Again Drop Bombs Over Venice.

Vienna, (via London), Nov. 19.—Venice has again been bombarded by Austrian aeroplanes. Official announcement was made here today that an aerial squadron attacked military establishments of that city yesterday afternoon. The announcement follows:

"Navy headquarters announces that on the afternoon of November 18, one of our seaplane squadrons successfully dropped bombs on the forts at San Nicola and Alberoni and the arsenal, aviation station, gas works, railway station and several barracks at Venice.

"Notwithstanding the heavy fire of anti-aircraft guns and the attacks of three aeroplanes our squadron returned with complete safety."

CONSIDER SERIOUS ACTION.

Greece May Adopt Measures Against Anglo-French Movement.

Berlin, Nov. 19. — (By wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—According to advices from Constantinople to the Frankfurter Zeitung," says the Overseas News Agency, "serious measures are being considered in Athens in connection with the existing situation. It is declared that the British and French are behaving at Saloniki as if that port were their property and that insinuations have been made regarding the overthrow of the dynasty. It is noted that a corps of gendarmes stationed in New Greece, a body formed principally of Cretans, has been openly agitating in favor of former Premier Venizelos.

"It is pointed out that a state of siege can be proclaimed in all Greece without the action of parliament, if a sufficient emergency arises."

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAMME OF THE STATE FARMERS' UNION

Set Forth in Resolutions Adopted at Annual Convention.

Durham, N. C., Nov. 19.—The following legislation is asked for by the North Carolina Farmers' Union, this programme having been adopted in resolutions passed by the Union in annual convention here this week:

First—Repeal of the merchants' crop lien law.

Second—Provision for race segregation of land ownership.

Third—Reform of taxation system so that the taxes will be more equitably distributed along the lines suggested in the last amendments to the constitution or some other methods.

Fourth—Incorporate rural communities.

Fifth—Initiative and referendum.

Sixth—An anti-usury law regulating banks and public service corporations.

Seventh—Give some official in North Carolina the right to regulate the insurance rates promulgated in the state.

Eighth—An adequate rural credits bill be passed by the national Congress at its forthcoming session.

Among the other things called for and advocated in special resolutions were:

Provision for the state to furnish the school books in public schools at publishers' prices.

Regulate express and freight rates on truck and fruit.

Indorse the action of the national convention in asking that some settlement be arrived at as to cotton tare that will be just both to the spinners and the producers of cotton.

Approve the work of the tobacco farmers in co-operative storing of their products and in the manufacture of plug and smoking tobaccos.

Declare that a paper which advertises "medical frauds" is not entitled to the confidence or support of the Farmers' Union.

Indorse the boy road patrol, and urges that its organization be begun in the counties of the state.

Opposed to the legislature interfering with the rights of the judiciary.

Indorse the Progressive Farmer as the official organ of the Farmers' Union of North Carolina.

Indorse the proposition that the executive committee of this body be authorized to lease for the use of an industrial school designed to fit farmers' sons for college with an idea of keeping them on the farm, to be established on the property belonging to the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance, located near Hillsboro, on such terms as they may approve, provided that the legislature at the next session will make sufficient appropriations to place the school on a firm basis.

TAKEN TO NORFOLK

Man Arrested at Baltimore Believed to Be Escaped German.

Baltimore, Nov. 19.—Otto Buelow as he calls himself but who government officials suspect to be Otto Unger, an escaped official of the interner German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was taken to Norfolk tonight where he will be held for the United States authorities. Buelow says he is a sailor but Federal officials declare the his appearance is not that of an ordinary sailor.

Yesterday Rear Admiral Beatty, commandant of the Norfolk navy yard, telegraphed to police Marshal Carter here asking that Buelow, who had been arrested on suspicion be held in custody.

BELIEVES PEOPLE WANT THE COUNTRY BETTER PREPARED

Growing Desire to Learn Actual Truth of Dangers of Invasion.

New York, Nov. 19.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant Secretary of the Navy, addressing the guests of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers here tonight, declared he believed it evident that the people of the country want a better preparedness. "There is a growing desire among the people," he said, "to learn the actual truth as to the dangers of invasion. As a result nearly every man now knows the size of the navy and what is expected of it."

CHARLES B. MUNDY IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

Found Guilty of Conspiring to Wreck Chicago Banking Institution.

Morris, Ill., Nov. 19.—Charles B. Munday, former vice president of the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, of which William Lorimer was president, tonight was found guilty of conspiring to wreck the institution and his punishment fixed by the jury at five years' imprisonment.

cently passed a resolution asking Governor Spry to use his efforts to secure a new trial for Hillstrom.

Drive Lawless Out of State.

"Every law breaker, every man who denies law and order, every man who is opposed to law and order—call themselves what they will—will be driven out of the state. I am going to see that the work is started at once. If the city officers and others whose duty it is to do not do so, I will do it myself. I am going to see that inflammatory street speaking is stopped and at once. Let them call it 'free speech' or any other name they wish."

The governor said the militia would be used if necessary to clear the state of the men who have been "writing threatening letters and making incendiary speeches." It is known that a considerable amount of evidence has been collected by the state in the last few months.

SAYS HILLSTROM INNOCENT.

Declares He Was Not in Salt Lake City on Night of Murder.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—William Busky, aged 21, the German-American, who in an affidavit sworn to before a notary public, declared that Joseph Hillstrom was not in Salt Lake City on the night of the murder for which Hillstrom was put to death, tonight made the following statement:

"On the day of the murder Hillstrom and I applied for work at the smelter at Murray, Utah, seven miles from Salt Lake City. Our names should appear on the books there as we were given employment and told to report that night at 11 o'clock. We remained at Murray and I did not leave Hillstrom until 10 o'clock that night. Hillstrom was not wounded then."

"When Hillstrom was given his preliminary hearing before Judge Ritchie in Salt Lake City, I was witness for the defense. I told the judge about Hillstrom and I being together at the time, but he cut me short and said my evidence was not ony good. I was not put on the stand again but was sent back to jail.

"I had been arrested previously by a detective, who heard me talking about the Hillstrom case on the street. I was in jail 41 days. Finally they turned me loose and told me to leave the state and never come back."

The Seattle police, in response to a telegram from Governor Spry of Utah, tonight sent detectives to arrest Busky, but he could not be found. The police believe that Busky's affidavit was part of an attempt by Industrial Workers of the World to put off Hillstrom's execution.

Perfect Bread LARABEE'S BEST

FLOUR

The World's Finest Flour Will Answer Every Purpose

The Flour contained in the bag under Larabee's Best Brand is milled and packed to stand at the head of all wheat flours. We mean by this that we claim that Larabee is not excelled.

The "Mills of Larabee" are situated in the center of the real wheat belt of the world, where it is also conceded that the finest quality of wheat is grown. The wheat that grows more prolific, that grows under the finest conditions, in the most fertile country of our land is milled in probably the most modern mill in existence. Packed with an individual guarantee on every bag to be the kind of flour that will please you. Flour made from Kansas Wheat has more strength, taste, yield, color, expansion (rise).

Are these qualities—in your bread—not worth more to you, Mrs. Housewife?

Ask your grocer about the best flour he has.

Manufactured by "MILLS OF LARABEE" Hutchison, Kds.
